THE CANADIAN ARMY VISION AND PRIORITIES

By 2030 the Canadian Army will be a modern, interoperable, relevant, and digitally transformed force capable of providing the Government of Canada with agile and scalable options for use in Canada and around the world in competition, crisis, or conflict. To achieve this vision, the Army is prioritizing three key areas: Modernization, Reconstitution, and Readiness. These priorities are purposely in that order: Modernization will be the foundation, driving critical changes that enable the Army to rebuild and re-equip (Reconstitution) in order to ensure Readiness for future challenges.

THE CANADIAN ARMY'S FOUNDATION

PURPOSE: Defend Canada, contribute to strategic deterrence, and ensure collective defence alongside our allies.

MISSION: Generate combat effective, multipurpose land forces capable of executing concurrent operations to enable Canada's defence objectives.

KEY PRINCIPLES

INTEROPERABLE: Across the Canadian Armed Forces and with the Five Eyes, NORAD, NATO, and emerging partnerships.

AGILE: Resilient, adaptable, innovative, and risk-tolerant in order to provide rapid response at home and around the world.

SCALABLE: Providing options for force employment across the full spectrum of operations, enhancing our relevance to Canada and our allies.

LETHAL: Maintaining the readiness and capabilities to conduct combat operations against a peer enemy.

DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION: Leverage advanced technologies to integrate command and control systems and enhance decision-making.

CULTURE: Continually evolving our culture to enhance the fighting spirit and operational effectiveness of the One Army Team.

THE CANADIAN ARMY'S GLOBAL FOCUS AREAS

- CANADA & THE ARCTIC: Defend national sovereignty and ensure readiness to operate in harsh and remote environments.
- THE EURO-ATLANTIC: Support deterrence and collective defence efforts in the Euro-Atlantic region alongside NATO allies.
- THE INDO-PACIFIC: Engage in partnerships and operations to promote security and uphold international rules and norms in this strategic region.

LONG-RANGE PRECISION FIRES
A new capability for the Canadian Army, essential for integration with allies.

INDIRECT FIRE MODERNIZATION
Modernizing mortars and artillery systems.

GROUND-BASED AIR DEFENCE
Reinvigorating this critical capability for NATO and continental defence.

ARCTIC MOBILITY / SURVIVABILITY
Enhancing our ability to operate in Arctic and Northern environments by upgrading aging equipment.

INTEGRATED COMMAND & CONTROL SYSTEMS
Digitally transforming the Canadian Army's command and control systems to ensure effective operations and remain operationally relevant.
