Find out if you are eligible

For all benefit and credit payments, you must be a resident of Canada for income tax purposes. A resident for income tax purposes has significant ties in Canada, such as a home, a spouse or common-law partner, or dependants.

For some benefit and credit payments, you must also have a valid immigration status, such as a:

- Canadian citizen or permanent resident
- protected person, or
- temporary resident who has lived in Canada for the previous 18 months and who has a valid permit in the 19th month
  - Inform the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) if your permit is renewed to avoid interruptions to your benefit and credit payments

How to get benefit and credit payments

Apply for payments as soon as you arrive in Canada, even if you do not have a social insurance number (SIN). For CRA forms, always use your first and last name in the same order. If you have one name, use it as a last name.

For the CCB and GST/HST credit payments, complete one of these forms:

- If you have children and you or your spouse or common-law partner meet the CCB eligibility criteria, complete Form RC66, Canada Child Benefits Application and include Form RC66SCH, Status in Canada and Income Information for the Canada Child Benefits Application.
- If you do not have children, or you do, but do not meet the CCB eligibility criteria, complete Form RC151, GST/HST Credit and Canada Carbon Rebate Application for Individuals Who Become Residents of Canada.

What you need to do your taxes

Social insurance number (SIN)

To work in Canada or access certain government programs and benefits, you need a SIN. If you do not have a SIN or have lost it, contact Service Canada at 1-866-274-6627 or go to an office near you.

Tax slips

At the beginning of the calendar year, you should receive tax slips with the information you need to do your taxes. If they are missing, get them online in My Account or call the CRA at 1-800-959-8281.

Do your taxes by April 30 each year to keep getting your payments: If you are married or in a common-law relationship, both you and your partner need to file. In Quebec, you also need to file a separate provincial tax return with Revenu Québec. Find more information at canada.ca/taxes-get-ready

Learn about your taxes

Check out a free online learning tool to help you understand Canadian taxes, how to do them, and what's in it for you. For more information, go to canada.ca/learn-about-taxes
