General information

GST/HST reporting periods

As a GST/HST registrant, the reporting period you use determines how often you prepare and send us your GST/HST returns. When you become a registrant, you can select, depending on your threshold amount, one of the three reporting periods. If you do not select a reporting period, we assign you the reporting period that requires the least frequent filing of GST/HST returns available for your threshold amount. For example, if your threshold amount is $1,500,000 or less, we will assign you an annual reporting period. The reporting period assigned to you will remain as your reporting period until you make an election to change it, or until your threshold amount exceeds the maximum for that reporting period.

If you are an eligible listed financial institution (as described in any of subparagraphs 149(1)(a)(i) to (x) of the Excise Tax Act), we will assign you an annual reporting period. The reporting period assigned to you will remain as your reporting period until you make an election to change it.

Your reporting period applies to all of your branches and divisions.

Who can change their reporting period?

You can elect to change your reporting period if the reporting period you choose is an available option based on your threshold amount (see Part B).

If you are a charity, you can make an election to change your reporting period regardless of your threshold amount.

If you are a listed financial institution, you can also change your reporting period by revoking your election for monthly or quarterly reporting periods using Form GST20-1, Notice of Revocation of an Election for GST/HST Reporting Period by a Listed Financial Institution. Unless you are a corporation that is a listed financial institution only because you have an election in effect to have certain taxable supplies deemed to be financial services, you are not subject to the $1.5 million threshold amount and you will have an annual reporting period.

Threshold amount calculation

Calculate your threshold amount to determine the reporting period options available to you. Include the total revenue from your taxable sales, leases and other supplies made in Canada, including zero-rated supplies. Also include revenues of your associates. Some revenues are excluded from this calculation (see the chart on this page).

You are considered to be associated if you meet any of the following conditions:

- If you are a corporation, you and another corporation are associated if you are associated for income tax purposes.
- If you are not a corporation, you and a corporation are associated if you control the corporation or you are a member of a group that controls the corporation and each member of that group is associated with each other member.
- You are associated with a partnership if the total of your share of the partnership's profits and the share of all the persons with whom you are associated is more than half of the total of the partnership's profits or would be more than half if the partnership had profits.
- You are associated with a trust if the total value of your interest in the trust, and the interest in the trust of all the persons with whom you are associated, is more than half the total value of all interests in the trust.
- You are associated with another person if you are each associated with the same third person.

Use the chart below to determine your threshold amount for a fiscal year.

Threshold amount calculation chart

Enter the total revenue (paid to you or that became due) from your taxable supplies of property and services made in Canada for your immediately preceding fiscal year. Do not include amounts collected as GST/HST or provincial sales tax.		$ _____ (1)
Amounts included on line 1 that are for:
Goodwill	$ _____	(2)
Financial services	_____	(3)
Sales of capital real property	_____	(4)
Zero-rated exports	_____	(5)
Add lines 2 through 5	_____	(6)
Line 1 minus line 6	_____	(7)
Line 7 divided by the number of days in that fiscal year	_____	(8)
Threshold amount (line 8 multiplied by 365)	$ _____	(9)

Note

If you have no associates, the amount on line 9 is your threshold amount for the fiscal year. If you have associates, the above calculation has to be repeated for each associate using the preceding fiscal year-end of the associate that ends on or before your last fiscal year-end. The line 9 total for all associates has to be added to your line 9 total to get your threshold amount for the current fiscal year.

Effective date of the election

Once you make an election, your reporting period will take effect on one of the following:

- the day you become a registrant
- the first day of your fiscal year, if you are already a registrant
- the first day of a fiscal quarter, if your election for annual filing ceases to be valid on the first day of that quarter (for example, you exceed the $1,500,000 threshold amount in your second or third quarter) and you are electing to file monthly instead of quarterly

Due date for filing your election

If you are electing to change from quarterly to annual filing, file your election no later than three months after the beginning of the fiscal year in which the election is to take effect.

If you are a new registrant, make an election to change your reporting period on or before the effective date of your GST/HST registration when the election is to take effect on that day.

In all other cases, file your election no later than two months after the day the election is to take effect.

Duration of election

The reporting period election remains in effect until the earlier of:

- the day an election for a different reporting period takes effect
- the day that your threshold amount for the fiscal year or a particular fiscal quarter in that year exceeds the maximum for the reporting period you have elected (this does not apply to charities)
- the day on which a revocation of the election becomes effective using Form GST20-1, Notice of Revocation of an Election for GST/HST Reporting Period by a Listed Financial Institution, if you are a listed financial institution

Instalment payments for annual filers

If you file your GST/HST returns annually and your annual net tax for your previous fiscal year was $3,000 or more, you may also have to make quarterly instalment payments. These quarterly payments are due one month after the end of each of your fiscal quarters and are generally based on the lesser of the following amounts:

- 25% of your annual net tax from the previous year
- 25% of the estimated annual net tax for the current fiscal year, if you expect that your net tax for the current fiscal year will be less than it was for the previous fiscal year

The GST/HST return you file at the end of your fiscal year will reconcile your instalment payments with your total annual net tax.
