Minister's Message

As Canada's Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness, I am pleased to present to Parliament the Correctional Service of Canada (CSC) Report on Plans and Priorities for the 2015–16 fiscal year.

Our Government is committed to advancing public safety throughout Canada. CSC contributes to this commitment by strengthening offender accountability and by providing the tools offenders need to become law-abiding and contributing members of society.

Our Government will enhance the continuum of mental health care provided to offenders, who are identified as needing care, through assessment, management, intervention and staff training, all with rigorous oversight.

We will continue fighting the presence of illicit drugs in federal institutions to decrease the number of drug-related incidents and help offenders address their substance abuse issues.

We will continue to put the rights of victims first with a responsive and timely range of services including ongoing outreach, timely notifications, listening and responding to victims' concerns, and by the full implementation of the Canadian Victims Bill of Rights, which will help CSC to further enhance the support it provides to victims.

This report establishes the way forward for the coming fiscal year, and outlines the important work that CSC does to help enhance public safety.

The Honourable Steven Blaney, P.C., M.P.
Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness

Section I: Organizational Expenditure Overview

Organizational Profile

Minister: The Honourable Steven Blaney, P.C., M.P.

Deputy Head: Don Head

Ministerial portfolio: Department of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness

Year Established: 1979

Main legislative authorities: *Corrections and Conditional Release Act*<sup>i</sup> and *Corrections and Conditional Release Regulations*<sup>ii</sup>

Other: Correctional Service of Canada's Mission

Organizational Context

Raison d'être

The purpose of the federal correctional system, as defined in law, is to contribute to the maintenance of a just, peaceful and safe society by carrying out sentences imposed by courts through the safe and humane custody and supervision of offenders; and by assisting the rehabilitation of offenders and their safe reintegration into the community as law-abiding citizens through the provision of programs in penitentiaries and in the community (Corrections and Conditional Release Act, s.3).

Mission

The Correctional Service of Canada, as part of the criminal justice system and respecting the rule of law, contributes to public safety by actively encouraging and assisting offenders to become law-abiding citizens, while exercising reasonable, safe, secure and humane control.

Responsibilities

The Correctional Service of Canada's (CSC) responsibilities are derived from the Corrections and Conditional Release Act and the Corrections and Conditional Release Regulations. The Act and Regulations direct CSC to be responsible for:

- a. the care, custody and supervision of offenders: CSC manages institutions for men and women, mental health treatment centres, Aboriginal healing lodges, community correctional centres, and parole offices where offenders under conditional release are supervised in the community. CSC provides services across the country in small and large urban centres, as well as in remote northern Inuit communities. On a typical day during 2013–14, CSC was responsible for 22,969 offenders, 15,215 of whom were in federal custody (including temporary detainees<sup>1</sup>) and 7,754 who were supervised in the community.
- b. the provision of interventions: CSC encourages and assists offenders to be accountable for their behaviour and rehabilitation by delivering a continuum of correctional interventions that contribute to successful reintegration into the community. CSC delivers the most relevant, appropriate and effective interventions to address the risks and needs of the offender population while in custody or under community supervision.
- c. the preparation of offenders for release: CSC staff work with inmates and partners to establish viable plans to prepare inmates for release. This includes pre-release case preparation, developing release plans, presenting cases to the Parole Board of Canada, and developing community strategies to ensure the safe release of inmates into the community.

1. Temporary detainees are held in custody in cases of suspension of a conditional release.

- d. the supervision of offenders on conditional release: CSC provides an integrated continuum of supervision, accommodation, employment and intervention in the effective management of offenders, in order to contribute to public safety.
- e. public education about the operations of CSC: CSC works to build partnerships with Canadian communities, to foster understanding of correctional programs and processes among Canadians, to boost public support for safe reintegration, and to demonstrate that CSC's ultimate goal is to contribute to public safety.

The Act also requires CSC to develop, implement and monitor correctional policies, programs and practices that respect gender, ethnic, cultural and linguistic differences and are responsive to the specific needs of women, men, Aboriginal peoples and other groups. As well, it requires that CSC provide essential health care services and reasonable access to non-essential mental health care that will contribute to inmates' rehabilitation and successful reintegration into the community. The Act mandates CSC to provide services to victims of crime, such as information sharing and awareness building to support victims.

CSC constantly assesses and adjusts the allocation of resources to ensure effective and efficient offender rehabilitation. CSC strives to achieve administrative efficiencies through streamlining its operations and program delivery. These and other related initiatives optimize available resources for CSC's key priorities and core mandate, and ensure that the organization continues to deliver strong public safety results for Canadians.

Organizational Priorities

CSC's priorities stem from its mission, legislative framework and risk profile. They provide specific focus for the organization's direction, programs and initiatives. All priorities listed below are equally important.

CSC reviewed and updated its corporate priorities in 2014. Building on previous iterations, CSC's corporate priorities provide clarity of intervention, reflect CSC's current operating environment, and position the organization for the future.

CSC's organizational priorities for 2015–16 are:

- Safe management of eligible offenders during their transition from the institution to the community, and while on supervision
- Safety and security of members of the public, victims, staff and offenders in our institutions and in the community
- Effective, culturally appropriate interventions for First Nations, Métis and Inuit offenders
- Mental health needs of offenders addressed through timely assessment, effective management and appropriate intervention, relevant staff training and rigorous oversight
- Efficient and effective management practices that reflect values-based leadership in a changing environment
- Productive relationships with diverse partners, stakeholders, victims' groups, and others involved in public safety

CSC tightened its focus in this priority, revised to stress the importance of safe and effective management of offenders as they prepare for release as well as while they are being supervised in the community. What are the plans for meeting this priority? CSC will continue to achieve this priority by maintaining secure institutional environments to support the delivery of nationally-recognized correctional programs (in both institutions and communities), based on offenders' assessed risks and needs to correct criminal behaviour and reduce reoffending. CSC will continue to improve the reliability and validity of assessment processes, and provide evidence-based correctional interventions to increase public safety results for Canadians, including the expansion of the implementation of the Integrated Correctional Program Model. Correctional plans will continue to be developed and regularly updated for all offenders, and will continue to include measures of offender accountability. CSC will begin implementing the Structured Assessment and Intervention Framework to deliver case management assessment, intervention, and supervision in a more efficient and effective way. Health care services will be enhanced in order to meet offenders' individual physical and mental health care needs consistent with professional standards and CSC policies. CSC will continue to offer educational, vocational, employment and social programs, as well as other initiatives to assist in the safe transition of offenders into the community.

2. Type, updated, refers to priorities that were revised and updated, building on their previous iterations to provide clarity of intervention, reflect CSC's current operating environment, and position the organization for the future

CSC will continue to support community-based initiatives across the country that contribute to the successful transition of offenders in communities and minimize reoffending. Faith-based services continue to support offenders as they transition from institutions back to communities. CSC will continue to deliver training for parole officers and ensure that training components are evidence-based and kept up to date. As well, CSC developed a new National Training Standard for Sentence Management staff to ensure offender eligibility is determined appropriately and in line with law and policy.

Description
Why is this a priority? CSC is committed to preventing violent behaviour and to maintaining a safe living and working environment in all CSC facilities, thereby ensuring the safety and security of victims, staff and offenders in its institutions and in the community. The safety of members of the public and victims, as it relates to interactions with offenders or time spent on CSC property, has always been of prime importance for CSC. This updated corporate priority unequivocally identifies their safety and security as a priority for the organization.

What are the plans for meeting this priority?

CSC will continue to implement its comprehensive population management approach that includes offender risk and needs assessments, and strategies for managing occupancy, including temporary accommodation such as double bunking where necessary. CSC will continue to maintain and improve the condition of its facilities. CSC will enhance protocols that increase the safety and security of operational sites, including security intelligence, search plans, dynamic security, and monitoring at principal entrances to prevent entry of drugs and other contraband in institutions. CSC will develop a Segregation Renewal Strategy to reframe how segregation is used in CSC and to strengthen oversight and decision making. CSC will ensure that victims are provided with a safe and secure environment when they are in institutions and will develop protocols to provide them with support and access to services in line with legislation. CSC will continue to develop and implement a long-term national approach for the safety of staff who work in the community. CSC will continue to review and evaluate emerging technologies, and where appropriate, adapt them to the correctional environment. CSC’s emergency management plans will continue to enable CSC to react to emergency situations quickly and effectively, should they arise.

Effective, culturally appropriate interventions for First Nations, Métis and Inuit offenders	Updated	Strategic Outcome: The custody, correctional interventions, and supervision of offenders in communities and institutions, contribute to public safety Programs: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Custody</li> <li>• Correctional Interventions</li> <li>• Community Supervision</li> </ul>

Description*Why is this a priority?

Aboriginal offenders, who account for just over 21%<sup>3</sup> of the overall CSC population, have specific cultural and spiritual needs that must be addressed to support their rehabilitation. CSC tightened the focus in this priority statement, demonstrating the importance of actively providing support and resources that Aboriginal offenders need to return to and remain in their communities as law-abiding and contributing members of society.

What are the plans for meeting this priority?

CSC will continue to strengthen the Aboriginal Corrections Accountability Framework with the ongoing implementation of programs, policies, services and interventions that are culturally appropriate and effective, leading to better results for Aboriginal offenders. CSC will continue to enhance its policy framework to address any systemic barriers to effectively managing Aboriginal offenders. In addition, CSC will continue to improve collaboration with Aboriginal communities and partners to strengthen initiatives that support the safe reintegration of Aboriginal offenders such as the Aboriginal Continuum of Care and Circles of Communication. CSC will strive to improve community capacity, strengthen partnerships and promote the use of Section 84 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act (CCRA) to facilitate the release of Aboriginal offenders who want to return to an Aboriginal community.

CSC will streamline the performance measures of the Aboriginal Correctional Accountability Framework to focus on reporting relevant correctional outcomes.

Description
Why is this a priority? Offenders with mental health needs require care for improved health that will contribute to their rehabilitation and successful reintegration into the community. In order for CSC to engage offenders in a rehabilitation process that will address the criminogenic factors that led to criminal behaviour, it must address their mental health needs through assessment, management and intervention. This corporate priority was revised to reflect the five pillars of the Mental Health Action Plan for Federal Offenders announced in May of 2014, which are assessment, management, intervention, staff training, and oversight. What are the plans for meeting this priority? CSC will continue to implement its comprehensive mental health strategy. In 2015–16, it will focus on correctional results for offenders with mental health needs. CSC will strengthen the continuum of mental health care throughout the duration of offenders’ sentences, and will increase collaboration with other jurisdictions to provide mental health services for offenders.

Efficient and effective management practices that reflect values-based leadership in a changing environment	Updated	Strategic Outcome: The custody, correctional interventions, and supervision of offenders in communities and institutions, contribute to public safety Program: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Internal Services</li> </ul>
Description
Why is this a priority? To maximize its operability, CSC must adapt to the changing environment and continuously develop, review and modernize its policies, programs and procedures to deliver on its mandate in the most effective, efficient and economic manner. CSC employs more than 18,000 staff working in institutions, parole offices and headquarters across the country. As a large and decentralized organization, CSC must effectively and efficiently manage a diverse and segmented operational system and maintain professional standards and operating practices. CSC's management practices are anchored in the organization's Values Statement, thus supporting its workforce, workplace and strategic outcome. This corporate priority was revised to add a particular focus on the challenges that arise from managing in a time of significant change. What are the plans for meeting this priority? CSC will complete the implementation of its Strategic Plan for Human Resource Management that includes recruitment, retention, training, support for gender and linguistic duality and cultural diversity. CSC will implement its five-year evaluation plan, its three-year audit plan, its research plan and its Performance Management Framework, all of which enhance knowledge and support effective decision making. CSC will enhance management practices by advancing the implementation of the Treasury Board Policy on Internal Control and continue to improve its costing and financial forecasting approaches. It will continue to streamline the procurement and lifecycle of equipment and modernize food service delivery and preparation. CSC's IM/IT plan will be updated and reviewed to ensure it continues to support CSC's requirements. Through all these initiatives, CSC management will promote and reinforce CSC's Values Statement and the Values and Ethics Code for the Public Sector with its employees, and will foster the development of strong, ethical leaders through training, coaching and example.

Description
Why is this a priority? The majority of federal offenders will be released to Canadian communities, and will need assistance and support to adjust to living crime-free in society. Partners, stakeholders and community experts are essential in this endeavour. In the interest of the well-being of offenders and Canadian communities, CSC partners with community-based organizations that reflect the diversity of the offender population in order to facilitate the safe return of offenders to communities. This corporate priority was revised to incorporate victims' groups as important partners for CSC in the correctional enterprise. Where possible, mediation leading to healing for victims is an important part of offenders recognizing the harm they caused and accepting responsibility for their criminal actions, contributing to the rehabilitation process. What are the plans for meeting this priority? CSC will continue to work on sustaining existing partnerships and developing new and diverse ones as it implements the Federal Community Corrections Strategy and the Integrated Engagement Strategy. CSC will continue to support opportunities to enhance and optimize engagement activities by leveraging local, regional and national partnerships such as Citizen Advisory Committees, Victim Advisory Committees and other victims' groups, and the National Ethnocultural Advisory Committee. CSC will also continue to provide information and restorative justice services to victims.

Risk Analysis

CSC continuously examines its internal and external environment to ensure that strategic, organizational, financial, legal and cultural factors are considered in its risk management process. This leads to the identification of risks which are then monitored, managed and mitigated. The risks and response strategies articulated below are captured within CSC's Corporate Risk Profile.

Through the administration of court-imposed sentences to offenders, CSC plays a key role in public safety by implementing a comprehensive set of measures, controls and practices that help offenders to become law-abiding citizens and contributing members of Canadian society upon their return to the community. The accurate identification and effective management of risks lead to the identification of priorities and facilitate the achievement of results. Risk management is a central part of daily business in all areas of CSC's large, decentralized and multifaceted work environment.

CSC operates in a continuously changing environment that requires a high level of adaptability and transformational skills. CSC must also take victims into account. Their rights must be considered at the same time as CSC assists offenders to become law-abiding and contributing members of Canadian society.

As a high reliability organization, CSC implements processes and crisis management methods to ensure the integrity of its operations. These processes and methods must be current and sustainable 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The continuity of CSC operations largely depends on its ability to maintain control of its activities and to manage and anticipate risks. It does so by identifying, developing, and assessing innovative ways to ensure the safety and security of staff, offenders and the public. Information, knowledge and technology are used to minimize the occurrence of incidents, and should they occur, to manage and learn from them. Clearly articulated responsibilities and robust governance structure ensure that risks are managed appropriately at the operational level as well as at the corporate level. Strategies to reduce risks across hazardous systems continue to facilitate the management and sustainability of the correctional environment and the development of organizational resilience.

The implementation of measures, systems, and controls increases CSC's high reliability capacity and facilitates the management of corporate risks. Corporate risk management guides decision making, and audit, evaluation and research planning. The risk analysis and management process is ever evolving in order to mitigate potential risks, and to ensure delivery of core business that contributes to public safety.

This integrated approach allows CSC to handle risk-related challenges, ensure operational sustainability and fulfill its mandate.

Sub-program 1.1: Institutional Management and Support

Description

The Institutional Management and Support Program contributes to public safety through the day-to-day management of operational activities and institutional services for offenders in custody.

Key activities include administering, operating and maintaining institutions; establishing operational processes and procedures; managing allocated financial and human resources; directing and overseeing the delivery of integrated correctional operations; monitoring the effectiveness of institutional security activities; considering threats, risks, vulnerabilities and physical security requirements and controls; managing the intelligence function for institutions; ensuring coordination across the criminal justice system; providing a safe environment for staff and inmates; and making decisions and recommendations related to offenders within delegated authorities.

6. “Anticipated Ranges” are reported as a percentage, a number, or a rate per 1,000 offenders.
 7. When dealing with deaths in custody, escapes, or drugs in institutions, CSC’s objective is zero. It is necessary, however, to put that objective in the context of reality, therefore, CSC’s results will be compared to the anticipated range, as this range fully considers the reality of CSC’s past and current operational context.
 8. Total number of grievances by inmates that were upheld (i.e. with a final grievance decision of UPHELD), per total number of grievances that were submitted by inmates.

The Community Health Services Program contributes to public safety by providing essential health services for offenders residing in a Community Correctional Centre, in accordance with professionally accepted standards. CSC pays, on a fee-for-service basis, the costs associated with essential health services for non-insured offenders in the community. In addition, as part of its Mental Health Strategy, CSC provides, at some community sites, mental health services to offenders with significant mental health challenges to contribute to their safe reintegration into the community.

Key activities include providing specialized mental health support and services to address mental health needs (e.g., crisis intervention and counselling), and links to community agencies.

43. The data represent the number of events per 1,000 offenders over a one year period, where a fail to return to a Community Correctional Centre is recorded. A fail to return to Community Correctional Centre event occurs when an offender leaves the Community Correctional Centre without authorization, does not return or is late returning to the Community Correctional Centre where he/she is residing after having signed out.

Section III: Supplementary Information

Consolidated Future-Oriented Statement of Operations

The consolidated future-oriented condensed statement of operations provides a general overview of CSC's operations. The forecast of financial information on expenses and revenues is prepared on an accrual accounting basis to strengthen accountability and to improve transparency and financial management.

Because the consolidated future-oriented condensed statement of operations is prepared on an accrual accounting basis, and the forecast and planned spending amounts presented in other sections of the Report on Plans and Priorities are prepared on an expenditure basis, amounts differ.

A more detailed consolidated future-oriented statement of operations and associated notes, including a reconciliation of the net cost of operations to the requested authorities, can be found on the Correctional Service of Canada's website<sup>v</sup>.

Appendix: Definitions

appropriation: Any authority of Parliament to pay money out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

budgetary expenditures: Include operating and capital expenditures; transfer payments to other levels of government, organizations or individuals; and payments to Crown corporations.

Departmental Performance Report: Reports on an appropriated organization's actual accomplishments against the plans, priorities and expected results set out in the corresponding Reports on Plans and Priorities. These reports are tabled in Parliament in the fall.

full-time equivalent: Is a measure of the extent to which an employee represents a full person-year charge against a departmental budget. Full-time equivalents are calculated as a ratio of assigned hours of work to scheduled hours of work. Scheduled hours of work are set out in collective agreements.

Government of Canada outcomes: A set of 16 high-level objectives defined for the government as a whole, grouped in four spending areas: economic affairs, social affairs, international affairs and government affairs.

Management, Resources and Results Structure: A comprehensive framework that consists of an organization's inventory of programs, resources, results, performance indicators and governance information. Programs and results are depicted in their hierarchical relationship to each other and to the Strategic Outcome(s) to which they contribute. The Management, Resources and Results Structure is developed from the Program Alignment Architecture.

non-budgetary expenditures: Include net outlays and receipts related to loans, investments and advances, which change the composition of the financial assets of the Government of Canada.

performance: What an organization did with its resources to achieve its results, how well those results compare to what the organization intended to achieve and how well lessons learned have been identified.

performance indicator: A qualitative or quantitative means of measuring an output or outcome, with the intention of gauging the performance of an organization, program, policy or initiative respecting expected results.

performance reporting: The process of communicating evidence-based performance information. Performance reporting supports decision making, accountability and transparency.

planned spending: For Reports on Plans and Priorities (RPPs) and Departmental Performance Reports (DPRs), planned spending refers to those amounts that receive Treasury Board approval by February 1. Therefore, planned spending may include amounts incremental to planned expenditures presented in the Main Estimates.

A department is expected to be aware of the authorities that it has sought and received. The determination of planned spending is a departmental responsibility, and departments must be able to defend the expenditure and accrual numbers presented in their RPPs and DPRs.

plans: The articulation of strategic choices, which provides information on how an organization intends to achieve its priorities and associated results. Generally a plan will explain the logic behind the strategies chosen and tend to focus on actions that lead up to the expected result.

priorities: Plans or projects that an organization has chosen to focus and report on during the planning period. Priorities represent the things that are most important or what must be done first to support the achievement of the desired Strategic Outcome(s).

program: A group of related resource inputs and activities that are managed to meet specific needs and to achieve intended results and that are treated as a budgetary unit.

Program Alignment Architecture: A structured inventory of an organization's programs depicting the hierarchical relationship between programs and the Strategic Outcome(s) to which they contribute.

Report on Plans and Priorities: Provides information on the plans and expected performance of appropriated organizations over a three-year period. These reports are tabled in Parliament each spring.

results: An external consequence attributed, in part, to an organization, policy, program or initiative. Results are not within the control of a single organization, policy, program or initiative; instead they are within the area of the organization's influence.

Strategic Outcome: A long-term and enduring benefit to Canadians that is linked to the organization's mandate, vision and core functions.

sunset program: A time-limited program that does not have an ongoing funding and policy authority. When the program is set to expire, a decision must be made whether to continue the program. In the case of a renewal, the decision specifies the scope, funding level and duration.

target: A measurable performance or success level that an organization, program or initiative plans to achieve within a specified time period. Targets can be either quantitative or qualitative.
