Nation Defend

VICE CHIEF OF THE DEFENCE STAFF

DIRECTOR GENERAL DEFENCE SECURITY

Let's talk social!

You are probably on multiple platforms such as: Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn, etc.

Don't forget that you represent the Department of National Defence (DND)/Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) ON and OFF duty. Everything you post may potentially compromise DND/CAF information, assets and resources, and could have severe consequences to operational tasks and to the safety of personnel.

KEY FACTS

- Be careful what you post or comment, it is public and should be considered a permanent part of the public record.
- If not careful, your personal information (and your family's information) could be readily accessible to the general public and to undesirable audiences.
- It is important to remain respectful and ethical, and to follow security policies that are in place.

Think before you click!

- ✓ Ask yourself before you post: Could the video, images or comments have an inappropriate impact or reflect discredit on DND/CAF or on any of its members?
- ✓ Be aware of your affiliation with the DND/CAF
 This may seem harmless to you, but you must be careful when you share any information which could compromise the personal security with details such as:
 - Pictures of you in uniform
 - Event photos with family or colleagues
 - Current or past information on postings/deployments
- ✓ Remember to review your account's security and privacy policies often They change with little notice.
- releasing DND/CAF information on social media
 You must follow release procedures as found in NDSOD Chapter 6:

✓ Be informed before

Don't be THAT person!

- Do not share DND/CAF information on social media Unclassified information does not automatically mean it can be released to the public or be open to all DND/CAF without a need-to-know. Approved release procedures must be followed.
- Do not tag or share photos of colleagues or friends without their permission

 Ensure that all individuals whose images or personal information you use, have given their consent.
- Do not over share personal information
 Only YOU need to know your home address, phone number, social insurance number and banking information.
- Do not share your official or personal e-mail Use a generic e-mail address instead.
- Do not include images or identifiers DND/CAF logos, badges, crests and emblems.
- Do not speak on behalf of DND/CAF, unless you are designated as an official spokesperson
- Do not post to, like, comment or share from, an organization that is known to promote discriminatory views
 - (CANFORGEN 016/18, CDS Direction on Professional Military Conduct, Para 8); and QR&O 19.14 - Improper comments.)

Suspected security incidents related to social media may be reported to the Director General – Defence Security (DGDS) Security Incident Management at

++DGDS SIMGIS@VCDS DGDS@Ottawa-Hull (DWAN)

Or to your Chain of Command, USS, ISSO, or the Military Police.

Follow the procedures in NDSOD Chapter 12: Security Incident Management.
