Minister's message

I am pleased to present Environment Climate Change Canada's report on fees for 2021–22.

The Service Fees Act provides a modern legislative framework that enables cost-effective delivery of services and, through better reporting to Parliament, improves transparency and oversight.

Last year's report provided details on each fee, such as the type and rate of adjustment, the service standard and the performance result.

This year's report once again includes factors or events that affected the information in the report, anticipated changes relating to fees, instances when the Department applied section 17 of the Service Fees Act and how many of its fees are subject to the Low-Materiality Fees Regulations as well as information related to remissions.

I welcome the increased transparency and oversight that the Service Fees Act's reporting regime embodies. I will continue to lead Environment and Climate Change Canada's transition to the reporting regime provided under the Service Fees Act.

The Honourable Steven Guilbeault, P.C., M.P.
Minister of Environment and Climate Change

About this report

This report, which is tabled under section 20 of the Service Fees Act<sup>ii</sup>, the Low-Materiality Fees Regulations<sup>iii</sup>, and subsection 4.2.8 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities<sup>iv</sup>, contains information about the fees Environment and Climate Change Canada had the authority to set in fiscal year 2021–22.

The report covers fees that are subject to the Service Fees Act.

For reporting purposes, fees are categorized by fee-setting mechanism. There are three mechanisms:

1. Act, regulation or fees notice
The authority to set these fees is delegated to a department, minister or Governor in Council pursuant to an act of Parliament.
2. Contract
Ministers have the authority to enter into contracts, which are usually negotiated between the minister and an individual or organization, and which cover fees and other terms and conditions. In some cases, that authority may also be provided by an act of Parliament.
3. Market rate or auction
The authority to set these fees is pursuant to an act of Parliament or a regulation, and the minister, department or Governor in Council has no control over the fee amount.

For fees set by act, regulation or fees notice, the report provides totals for fee groupings, as well as detailed information for each fee. For fees set by contract, the report provides totals only. Environment and Climate Change Canada did not have fees set by market rate or auction.

Although the fees Environment and Climate Change Canada charges under the Access to Information Act<sup>v</sup> were subject to the Service Fees Act, they are not included in this report. Information on Environment and Climate Change Canada's access to information fees for 2021–22 is in our annual report to Parliament on the administration of the Access to Information Act: Reports tabled in Parliament: Environment and Climate Change Canada<sup>vi</sup>.

Remissions

In 2021–22, Environment and Climate Change Canada was subject to the requirements to issue remissions under section 7 of the Service Fees Act<sup>vii</sup> and subsection 4.2.4 of the Treasury Board Directive on Charging and Special Financial Authorities<sup>viii</sup> to remit a fee, in whole or in part, to a fee payer when a service standard was deemed not met.

Environment and Climate Change Canada’s remission policy and procedures, pursuant to the Service Fees Act, are on the following web page: Departmental Remissions Policy for Service Fees<sup>ix</sup>.

The other sections of this report provide detailed amounts on Environment and Climate Change Canada’s remissions for 2021–22.

<sup>4</sup> The difference between the implied number of fees in the total fee revenue and the number of assessed fees reported in the performance results is due to the fact that some submissions are assessed/completed in a different fiscal year than the corresponding fee was collected. Discrepancies between the fee amount and total fee revenue may arise when the assessment and collection of a fee doesn't occur in the same fiscal year while the fee varies between fiscal years.

Service standard

The service standard is to reach a permit decision within 90 days after the applicant has been advised that their application is complete. This standard is subject to some conditions under which the 90-day period is suspended or does not apply, for example, if the applicant asks for a later date.

The service standard for permit renewals is to reach a permit decision within 45 days after the applicant has been advised that their renewal application is complete.

Under the application fee, each application is reviewed according to Schedule 6 of Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999 and the Disposal at Sea Regulations. This involves public notice, an application that provides detailed data, scientific review, and the payment of fees. Each permit is published on the Canadian Environmental Protection Act Registry<sup>clxiii</sup> and issued to the permit holder.

Performance result

100% of the 80 permits received were delivered within timelines as per the Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999. 100% of permit renewals had a decision delivered within the timelines.

Service standard

For the Disposal at Sea Permit Fee payments, Environment and Climate Change Canada will issue the permit holder or applicant an acknowledgment of receipt within 45 business days of receipt of that payment.

The permit holder has access to a permitted site and the ability to dispose of 1,000 cubic meters of dredged or excavated material for each $488.97 paid. Refunds are issued for units that are not disposed.

Performance result

The Service Standard was met in 100% of 80 cases. Note that payments transferred between Federal departments are acknowledged automatically by the financial system and are included in these statistics.

The regulations for these fees allows for payments to be in two instalments, so that each part may come in different fiscal years.
