Executive Summary

Sustainable Development is central to Employment and Social Development Canada (ESDC)'s mandate to build a stronger and more inclusive Canada. The department's programs and activities help Canadians lead productive and rewarding lives and improve Canada's standard of living.

ESDC is the lead department responsible for coordinating Canada's efforts to implement the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, which Canada and all 192 other United Nations Member States adopted in September 2015. The 2022 to 2026 Federal Sustainable Development Strategy \(FSDS\) is helping to accelerate Canada's progress towards the SDGs. ESDC's 2023 to 2027 Departmental Sustainable Development Strategy (DSDS) outlines how the department contributes to the 2022-2026 FSDS goals and targets and how it advances Canada's progress on Agenda 2030.

ESDC's sustainable development efforts aim to foster improvements in quality of life that are accessible to all Canadians, to support a whole-of-society approach to sustainable growth, and to ensure that the department's programs and activities are shaped by ongoing dialogue with Canadians. Our 2023-2027 DSDS demonstrates ESDC's leadership in advancing key social and economic FSDS goals. These include: Goal 1: Reduce Poverty in Canada in All its Forms; Goal 4: Promote Knowledge and Skills for Sustainable Development; Goal 8: Encourage Inclusive and Sustainable Economic Growth in Canada; and Goal 10: Advance Reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples and Take Action on Inequality. The strategy also highlights the department's engagement in taking action on climate change, our leadership in supporting a just transition to a net-zero economy, as well as our continued efforts in supporting the implementation of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP).

SECTION 1

Introduction to the Departmental Sustainable Development Strategy

The 2022 to 2026 Federal Sustainable Development Strategy \(FSDS\) presents the Government of Canada's sustainable development goals and targets, as required by the Federal Sustainable Development Act. This is the first FSDS to be framed using the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) of the United Nations 2030 Agenda and provides a balanced view of the environmental, social, and economic dimensions of sustainable development.

In keeping with the purpose of the Act, to make decision-making related to sustainable development more transparent and accountable to Parliament, ESDC supports the goals laid out in the FSDS through the activities described in this Departmental Sustainable Development Strategy (DSDS). ESDC's strategy also encompasses the activities of the Canada Employment Insurance Commission (CEIC), which oversees ESDC's delivery of numerous high-profile employment programs and services.

The Federal Sustainable Development Act also sets out 7 principles that must be considered in the development of the FSDS as well as DSDS. These principles have been considered and incorporated in Employment and Social Development Canada's DSDS.

To promote coordinated action on sustainable development across the Government of Canada, this departmental strategy integrates efforts to advance Canada's implementation of the 2030 Agenda National Strategy, supported by the Global Indicator Framework (GIF) and Canadian Indicator Framework (CIF) targets and indicators. The strategy also now captures SDG initiatives that fall outside the scope of the FSDS to inform the development of the Canada's Annual Report on the 2030 Agenda and the SDGs.

SECTION 2

Employment and Social Development Canada's Sustainable Development Vision

ESDC delivers a wide range of programs and services that support Canadians throughout their lives. The department is responsible for distributing over $160 billion in benefits to individuals and organizations every year, by way of programs and services such as Employment Insurance, the Canada Pension Plan, the Old Age Security program, the Canada Student Financial Assistance Program, and the Canada Disability Savings Program.

By taking a whole-of-society approach, ESDC will help build a stronger, more inclusive, and sustainable Canada. We will continue to focus on programs and activities that help Canadians live productive and rewarding lives and improve Canada's standard of living.

ESDC will fulfill its commitments to Canadians in ways that foster and support sustainable development as required by the Federal Sustainable Development Act and outlined in the 2022 to 2026 FSDS. Specifically, ESDC will focus on sustainable improvements in:

- quality of life for Canadians;
- capacity building for governments, employers, and civil society;
- engagement and dialogue on programs and services; and,
- the department's operations and workplace culture.

Improvements in quality of life depend on social and economic development that is sustainable. ESDC will ensure its programs, policies, and initiatives contribute to gains from economic growth that are shared fairly and protect and preserve our environment and climate. This includes ensuring equitable access to gains from sustainable growth through the labour market, education and training system, and government benefits and services. It also means ensuring vulnerable or disadvantaged persons have the means to live and thrive in an inclusive economy and affordable society and a safer environment. As well, ESDC will support workers and future generations in a just transition to a net-zero emissions and climate resilient economy by developing and improving programs and benefits that help affected workers and facilitating skills development via education and training.

With its broad range of benefits, funding programs, and engagement activities, ESDC will continue to play a key role in capacity building for sustainable development. Through its external and internal activities, ESDC will increase the ability of governments and other organizations in society to contribute to sustainable growth and social development.

The scope and size of ESDC's activities also provide us with a unique role to engage in dialogue with Canadians and the groups that represent them, including Indigenous Peoples, underrepresented groups, other levels of government, employers, and social purpose organizations. We will continue to use this opportunity to shape the delivery and quality of sustainable services and benefits for Canadians. We will ensure that Canadians and their representatives are included in decisions about the programs and services that are intended to improve their lives economically, socially, and environmentally. This includes ongoing commitments to reconciliation and adopting distinctions-based approaches and considerations.

Finally, ESDC will continue efforts to integrate sustainable practices in the department's internal operations and workplace culture so that Canadians will know that the services and benefits they receive are being created and delivered in sustainable ways. This will include adopting practices to reduce the department's carbon footprint; using technologies strategically to reduce environmental impacts; and fostering a workforce and culture committed to sustainable development in everyday activities.

SECTION 3

Listening to Canadians

As required by the Federal Sustainable Development Act, ESDC, including the Labour Program and Service Canada, has taken into account comments on the draft 2022-2026 FSDS made during the public consultation held from March 11 to July 9, 2022.

During the public consultation, more than 700 comments were received from a broad range of stakeholders, including governments, Indigenous organizations, non-governmental organizations, academics, businesses, and individual Canadians in different age groups and of various backgrounds. The draft FSDS was also shared with the appropriate committee of each House of Parliament, the Commissioner of the Environment and Sustainable Development, and the Sustainable Development Advisory Council for their review and comment.

What We Heard

Across the submissions received, ESDC identified sustainable development priorities and issues related to ESDC's mandate and sustainable development that affect us.

During the public consultation on the FSDS, we heard that Canadians want to see a greater acknowledgment of socio-economic challenges such as inequality, poverty, and the rising cost of living in Canada.

Reconciliation and respect for the rights and self-governance of Indigenous Peoples were also strong themes that emerged during the consultation. Specifically, the importance of taking a distinctions-based approach in the federal government's work with First Nations, Métis, and Inuit communities, to ensure that the unique rights, interests, history and lived experience of Indigenous communities are acknowledged, affirmed, and reflected in policies and programs.

Finally, we also heard that ensuring a just and equitable transition to a low-carbon future for workers and their communities was a key priority. Stakeholders expressed that the federal government needs to develop programming to deal with Canada lacking the skilled workforce needed to transition to net-zero and take action to advance a circular economy.

What We Did

ESDC took the above-mentioned key priorities and issues into consideration in this DSDS.

ESDC continues to address the concerns of Canadians regarding the rising cost of living and its impacts on Canada's most vulnerable populations through its sustainable development commitments.

As the Federal Government lead for Opportunity for All: Canada's First Poverty Reduction Strategy, ESDC is taking action on FSDS Goal 1: Reduce Poverty in Canada in all its Forms and SDG 1: No Poverty by making long-term investments in poverty reduction to ensure a sustainable livelihood for all Canadians.

This includes investing and improving access to the Old Age Security pension and the income-tested Guaranteed Income Supplement to ensure a minimum income for seniors as they age and reduce the number of Canadian seniors living in poverty. It also includes investments in initiatives supporting the financial security of Persons with Disabilities, such as the new Canada Disability Benefit, which will reduce poverty, and support the financial security of working age persons with disabilities. Persons with disabilities experience poverty at twice the rate of working-age persons without disabilities.

ESDC programs and initiatives that contribute to the department's efforts to advance reconciliation and support the self-determination of Indigenous Peoples are also a key part of the department's commitments.

Through its work on the Indigenous Early Learning and Child Care Transformation Initiative, which supports Indigenous governance, capacity, and self-determination in the early learning and child care (ELCC) sector, ESDC is contributing to the advancement of: FSDS Goal 4: Promote knowledge and Skills for Sustainable Development; SDG 4: Quality Education; and FSDS Goal 10: Advance Reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples and Take Action on Inequality. Per the initiative's National Partnership Tables, federal investments are coordinated in alignment with the Government of Canada's co-developed Indigenous Early Learning and Child Care (IELCC) Framework which reflects the unique cultures and needs of First Nations, Inuit, and Métis children across Canada.

By way of its commitments and planned initiatives in support of FSDS Goal 8: Encourage inclusive and sustainable economic growth in Canada, ESDC is also taking steps to ensure that Canada has the skilled workforce it needs to transition to net-zero and help Canadians thrive in a changing global economy.

As a result of its distinctions-based Indigenous Skills and Employment Training (ISET) Program, the department is helping Indigenous and northern communities access green job opportunities and skills training in culturally relevant ways. Over the duration of the DSDS, the department will also implement measures announced in the 2022 Fall Economic Statement, including the Sustainable Jobs Training Centre and a new Union Training and Innovation Program sustainable jobs funding stream under the Canadian Apprenticeship Strategy to support the development of green skills training for skilled trades apprentices and journeypersons.

As the largest federal service delivery organization in Canada, the essential programs, and services the department delivers are informed by ongoing conversations with Canadians. As we share the plans and commitments of our 2023 to 2027 DSDS in support of the FSDS's goals and targets, as well as Canada's 2030 Agenda, we look forward to sharing our progress and continuing the conversation with Canadians in support of building a stronger, more inclusive, and sustainable future.

SECTION 4

Employment and Social Development's Commitments

Here are the Federal Sustainable Development Strategy (FSDS) Goals that Employment and Social Development Canada is contributing to:

Here are the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) that Employment and Social Development Canada is contributing to:

GOAL 1: REDUCE POVERTY IN CANADA IN ALL ITS FORMS

FSDS Context:

ESDC works to lift Canadians out of poverty by ensuring basic needs are met and to protect Canadians from falling into poverty by supporting income security and resilience.

Looking ahead, the department will continue its work to reduce poverty by implementing Opportunity for All: Canada's First Poverty Reduction Strategy. This includes working with partners to address key gaps in poverty measurement in Canada as well as measuring progress towards the strategy's poverty reduction targets. Between 2023 and 2025, ESDC will collaborate with Statistics Canada to refine and update Canada's official poverty line to gain a greater understanding of the disposable income required to achieve a modest, basic standard of living in communities across the country. The department will also continue its work with First Nations, Inuit and Métis communities to better understand and address poverty among Indigenous populations in Canada.

Owing to its programs and services, ESDC continues to make important investments that make life more affordable for Canadians. ESDC's improvements to access Old Age Security and Guaranteed Income Supplement benefits will ensure a minimum income for seniors as Canada's population ages. The department will also continue its work to improve services for groups disproportionately affected by poverty, via initiatives such as the new Canada Disability Benefit, which will reduce poverty and support the financial security of working-age persons with disabilities. Persons with disabilities experience poverty at twice the rate of working-age persons without disabilities.

Through investments in innovative programs such as the Social Finance Fund, the department is also working to enhance the capacity of social purpose organizations across the country, including charities, not-for-profit organizations, co-operatives, and for-profit social enterprises, who play a fundamental role in tackling persistent challenges like access to affordable housing, food insecurity, and poverty.

Initiatives advancing Canada’s implementation of SDG 1 – No Poverty

The following initiatives demonstrate how ESDC programming supports the 2030 Agenda and the SDGs, supplementing the information outlined above.

PLANNED INITIATIVES	ASSOCIATED DOMESTIC TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS
The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) provides partial income replacement for Canadian workers and their families in the event of retirement, disability or death. The CPP enhancement that began in 2019 will reduce the number of families at risk of not having adequate income in retirement by a quarter and, over time, increase the maximum retirement pension by more than 50 percent. This promotes economic inclusion for retirees, survivors, persons with disabilities and their dependants.	The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 1.3: “Implement nationally appropriate social protection systems and measures for all, including floors, and by 2030 achieve substantial coverage of the poor and the vulnerable.”

GOAL 3: GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

Initiatives advancing Canada’s implementation of SDG 3 – Good Health and Well-Being

The following initiatives demonstrate how ESDC programming supports the 2030 Agenda and SDG 3.

PLANNED INITIATIVES	ASSOCIATED DOMESTIC TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS
The New Horizons for Seniors Program provides funding for projects that increase the social participation and inclusion of seniors in their communities. Increased social inclusion is directly linked to improved mental health.	The New Horizons for Seniors Program contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 3.6: “Canadians have healthy and satisfying lives” and the associated indicator: “Percentage of Canadians who perceived their overall health and social well-being as very good to excellent.”

The Enabling Accessibility Fund (EAF) funds projects that make Canadian communities and workplaces more accessible for persons with disabilities. For example, past EAF-funded projects have included multisensory rooms, which support people with cognitive and/or mental health disabilities. These rooms support the provision of mental health services in community spaces.	The Enabling Accessibility Fund (EAF) program contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 3.5: “Canadians have healthy and satisfying lives” and associated indicator: “Percentage of Canadians who are satisfied or very satisfied with their life.” The Enabling Accessibility Fund also contributes to advancing other sustainable development goals, including: Global Indicator Framework target 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.”

PLANNED INITIATIVES

ASSOCIATED DOMESTIC TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS

Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.1: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.”

Global Indicator Framework Target 10.2: “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.”

Global Indicator Framework 10.3: “Ensure equal opportunity and reduce inequalities of outcome, including by eliminating discriminatory laws, policies and practices and promoting appropriate legislation, policies and action in this regard.”

Global Indicator Framework target 11.7: “By 2030, provide universal access to safe, inclusive and accessible, green and public spaces, in particular for women and children, older persons and persons with disabilities.”

GOAL 4: PROMOTE KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

FSDS Context:

ESDC's commitments in support of FSDS Goal 4 focus on making early learning and child care more affordable across the country and helping Canadians access the education, skills and training needed to participate in a changing labour market.

In 2021-22, the department reached Canada-wide Early Learning and Child Care (ELCC) agreements with every province and territory on behalf of Canada. These agreements have already led to reductions in average fees for regulated child care across the country. Looking ahead, the department will continue its work with provinces and territories to increase access to high-quality, affordable, flexible, and inclusive early learning and child care and meet the federal target to reduce regulated child care fees towards an average of $10-a-day by March 2026. Guided by the co-developed Indigenous ELCC Framework, the department will also continue to collaborate with First Nations, Inuit and Métis Nation governments and organizations to support distinctions-based Indigenous-led Early Learning and Child Care (IELCC) programs.

Ensuring young people have the financial supports they need to complete their studies and successfully transition from school to the workforce will also continue to be an important focus for ESDC in support of FSDS Goal 4. The permanent elimination of interest for Canada Student Loans and Canada Apprentice Loans, effective April 1, 2023, will support this ambition.

Target theme: Child care

Target: By March 31, 2026, regulated child care fees will be reduced to $10 a day, on average, everywhere outside of Quebec (Minister of Children, Families and Social Development)

Work with provincial, territorial, and Indigenous partners to build a Canada-wide, community-based system of quality child care.	ESDC will continue to work with provinces, territories, and Indigenous partners to build and maintain a Canada-wide early learning and child care system, ensuring that all families have access to high-quality, affordable, flexible, and inclusive early learning and child care. Program: Canada-wide early learning and child care system	Performance indicator: Number of provinces and territories with $10-a-day average regulated child care costs. Starting point: 2 provinces/territories as of July 2021 Target: 10 provinces and 3 territories by March 31, 2026.	The Canada-wide early learning and child care system will help ensure access to high-quality, affordable, flexible, and inclusive child care is widely available in Canada. Canada-wide early learning and child care supports parents, particularly mothers, to enter or re-enter the workforce, pursue education, open a new business. It also promotes quality early education and learning for young children, preparing them for school. This program directly supports SDG 4 (Quality Education) through target 4.2. With the exception of Quebec, these agreements include commitments from provinces and territories to fund and develop a plan to ensure that vulnerable communities, including vulnerable children within Indigenous communities, have equitable access to regulated child care spaces. Initiatives advancing Canada’s implementation of SDG 4 – Quality Education

PLANNED INITIATIVES	ASSOCIATED DOMESTIC TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS
Canada Student Financial Assistance (CSFA) Program and Canada Apprentice Loans. The CSFA Program provides non-repayable grants, interest-free loans, and repayment assistance to help Canadian students pay for their post-secondary education. Canada Apprentice Loans help participants complete their apprenticeship in a designated Red Seal trade. With Canada Apprentice Loans, participants can get up to $4,000 in interest-free loans per period of technical training for up to 5 training periods. In fiscal year 2023 to 2024, the CSFA Program will increase loan forgiveness for family doctors and nurses working in eligible underserved rural or remote communities. Nurses may qualify for up to $30,000 in loan forgiveness and doctors up to $60,000. The CSFA Program will also expand the reach of Canada Student Loan Forgiveness to more rural and remote communities, including all communities with populations of 30,000 or fewer. The CSFA Program provides targeted, non-repayable grants to disadvantaged groups such as low-and middle-income students, students with disabilities and low-and middle-income students with dependants. To help make post-secondary education more affordable following the COVID-19 pandemic, these grants are temporarily increased by 40% over base amounts for 2023-2024. Supports for students with disabilities were recently expanded to students and borrowers with persistent or prolonged disabilities, in addition to those already eligible with permanent disabilities. The CSFA Program provides repayable assistance to borrowers facing financial difficulties through the Repayment Assistance Program. Single borrowers are not required to start repaying their loans until they earn at least $40,000 per year, with this threshold being adjusted upwards based on family size. The CSFA Program has helped reduce the burden of student and apprentice loan repayment for young Canadians so they can invest in building their futures by permanently eliminating the accrual of interest on Canada Student Loans and Canada Apprentice Loans including those currently being repaid. As of July 2023, the average student loan borrower will save $610 per year because of their loan being interest-free.	The Canada Student Financial Assistance (CSFA) Program and Canada Apprentice Loans contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 4.1: “Canadians have access to inclusive and quality education throughout their lives.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.3: “By 2030, ensure equal access for all women and men to affordable and quality technical, vocational and tertiary education, including university.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.4: “By 2030, substantially increase the number of youth and adults who have relevant skills, including technical and vocational skills, for employment, decent jobs and entrepreneurship.”
The Canada Education Savings Program helps make post-secondary education more affordable and accessible for Canadians by encouraging early planning and savings. The Government offers education savings benefits deposited in Registered Education Savings Plans, specifically the Canada Education Savings Grant as well as the Canada	The Canada Education Savings Program contributes to: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition for SDG 4: “Canadians have access to inclusive and quality education throughout their lives.”

Learning Bond for children and youth from low-income households. Over the coming years, the Department will continue to advance outreach and partnership initiatives to increase program access and enable post-secondary education, in particular from underserved harder-to-reach populations, including Indigenous Peoples.	Global Indicator Framework target 4.3: “By 2030, ensure equal access for all women and men to affordable and quality technical, vocational and tertiary education, including university.”
The Supports for Student Learning Program (SSLP) funds youth-serving organizations to provide supports to help underserved youth, including Indigenous youth and youth from low-income households, to succeed in school and successfully transition to post-secondary education (PSE) and the labour market. The SSLP includes a range of targeted learning interventions under two program streams: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Afterschool and student supports offered outside of the education system, help youth facing barriers to graduate high school and transition successfully to PSE and the labour market. • The Outbound Student Mobility Pilot (also known as the Global Skills Opportunity) is funded as part of Canada’s International Education Strategy, to help Canadian post-secondary students participate in study abroad and work opportunities. 	The Supports for Student Learning Program contributes to: Canadian Indicator Framework Ambition 4.1: “Canadians have access to inclusive and quality education throughout their lives.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.5: “By 2030, eliminate gender disparities in education and ensure equal access to all levels of education and vocational training for the vulnerable, including persons with disabilities, Indigenous peoples and children in vulnerable situations.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.7: “By 2030 ensure all learners acquire knowledge and skills needed to promote sustainable development, including among others through education for sustainable development and sustainable lifestyles, human rights, gender equality, promotion of a culture of peace and non-violence, global citizenship, and appreciation of cultural diversity and of culture’s contribution to sustainable development.”
The Canada Service Corps works with third-party organizations to promote civic engagement among youth aged 15 to 30 by providing them with funding to offer service placements and micro-grants. The program aims to create, promote, and facilitate access to volunteer service opportunities that are meaningful to youth, support lasting civic engagement, and provide youth with skills and experience. CSC volunteer service opportunities are open to Canadian citizens, permanent residents, and youth with a granted refugee status and aims to engage at least 50% Indigenous and underserved youth in programming. This includes Indigenous youth; Black and racialized youth; youth with disabilities; youth living in rural or remote areas; 2SLGBTQI+ youth; youth from low-income families; newcomer youth; and Official Language Minority Community (OLMC) youth.	The Canada Service Corps contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 4.2: “Canadians have access to inclusive and quality education throughout their lives.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.4: “By 2030, substantially increase the number of youth and adults who have relevant skills, including technical and vocational skills, for employment, decent jobs and entrepreneurship.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.5: “By 2030, eliminate gender disparities in education and ensure equal access to all levels of education and vocational training for the vulnerable, including persons with disabilities, indigenous peoples and children in vulnerable situations.”
The Opportunities Fund for Persons with Disabilities provides skills training and employment supports for persons with disabilities to help them prepare for, obtain and maintain employment, and advance in their careers. It supports persons with disabilities in overcoming barriers to participation in the Canadian labour market, and it supports employers to hire persons with disabilities and make workplaces more accessible and inclusive. The program assists persons with disabilities receive the essential skills training needed to enhance their employability.	The Opportunities Fund for Persons with Disabilities contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 4.4: “By 2030, substantially increase the number of youth and adults who have relevant skills, including technical and vocational skills, for employment, decent jobs and entrepreneurship.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.5: “By 2030, eliminate gender disparities in education and ensure equal access to all levels of education and vocational training for the vulnerable, including persons with disabilities, indigenous peoples and children in vulnerable situations.”

Under the Labour Market Development Agreements (LMDAs) and the Workforce Development Agreements (WDAs) with provinces and territories (PTs), the department helps people across the country prepare for, find, and keep employment. The Government of Canada provides approximately $3 billion for skills and employment programs and services through the LMDAs and the WDAs with provinces and territories. More than a million training and employment services and supports are offered to individuals and employers under these agreements each year. The LMDAs are complemented by the WDAs, which include specific funding targeted for persons with disabilities. These agreements allow more Canadians, including members of other equity-deserving groups such as women, youth, Indigenous peoples, and visible minorities, to have access to training and supports to find and maintain employment.	The Labour Market Development Agreements and the Workforce Development Agreements contribute to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 4.4: “By 2030, substantially increase the number of youth and adults who have relevant skills, including technical and vocational skills, for employment, decent jobs and entrepreneurship.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.5: “By 2030, eliminate gender disparities in education and ensure equal access to all levels of education and vocational training for the vulnerable, including persons with disabilities, indigenous peoples and children in vulnerable situations.” Global Indicator Framework target 4.6: “By 2030, ensure that all youth and a substantial proportion of adults, both men and women, achieve literacy and numeracy.”

GOAL 5: CHAMPION GENDER EQUALITY

FSDS Context:

ESDC recognizes the importance gender equality plays in the Canadian economy and is actively looking to reduce systemic barriers that exist for women, girls and gender-diverse people in the labour market. To do so, ESDC will continue to modernize the Employment Equity Act to promote equality and diversity and help identify and eliminate barriers to employment opportunities in federally regulated workplaces. The department will also advance new pay transparency measures that will shine a light on pay gaps experienced by women, Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities.

At the same time, ESDC is investing in programs and initiatives that focus on creating new and improving existing opportunities for women in this sector of the economy. The first example is the Women's Employment Readiness Pilot Program, delivered under the Skills for Success program, which funds organizations to provide and test pre-employment and skills development supports for 4 groups of women: racialized women and/or Indigenous women; women with disabilities; women from the 2SLGBTQI+ community; and women with prolonged workforce detachment. The pilot also tests ways to improve employer inclusivity. The target for this program has been set at up to 5,000 participants over a two-year period and will use the results to inform systemic changes to how skills and employment programming for women is delivered.

Secondly, the Women in Skilled Trades Initiative was created to focus on funding projects that recruit, retain, and help women apprentices succeed in trades predominately found in the construction and manufacturing sectors. ESDC will fund organizations such as women's groups, community colleges, unions, and employers for activities that will recruit women, create outreach tools, offer mentorship supports, and create a welcoming space where women can feel comfortable and safe in the training and work sites. With a target of supporting 10,900 women over the next 4 years, this initiative will reduce the difference in gender representation while increasing opportunities for women in, not only leadership roles, but also in the broader economy.

Initiatives advancing Canada’s implementation of SDG 5 – Gender Equality

The following initiatives demonstrate how ESDC’s programming supports the 2030 Agenda and the SDG 5, supplementing the information outlined above.

PLANNED INITIATIVES	ASSOCIATED DOMESTIC TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS
The Employment Equity Act is being reviewed and recommendations will be developed on how best to modernize the legislative framework. The Act currently supports equality and diversity in workplaces for the four designated groups: women, Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities. It also covers women in intersection with the three other designated groups. In 2021, the Act was amended to include Pay Gap Reporting requirements aimed at reducing wage gaps in federally regulated organizations. Making pay gap information publicly available can help to shift business culture and expectations towards greater equality. Under the Act, federally regulated private sector employers are required to report their salary data in a way that shows aggregate pay gaps for each of the four designated groups. This information is included in employers’ annual submissions to the Minister of Labour. The data is then published on a dynamic, public-facing website (to be launched by fall 2023) where data on employer representation and pay gaps can be reviewed and compared by the public. It will include information in the form of aggregated percentages for each employer, overall and for each Employment Equity Occupational Group showing the: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Representation, • Mean and median hourly wage gaps, • Mean and median bonus pay gaps, and, • Mean and median overtime pay and hours gaps. In addition, the Minister of Labour’s Employment Equity Act - Annual Report presents an analysis of employers consolidated employment equity submissions. The Canadian Apprenticeship Strategy’s Women in the Skilled Trades initiative funds projects that aim to recruit, retain, and help women apprentices succeed in 39 eligible Red Seals trades found predominantly in the construction and manufacturing sectors. Projects are anticipated to be implemented in fiscal year 2023 to 2024.	The Canadian Apprenticeship Strategy’s Women in the Skilled Trades initiative contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 5.5: “Ensure women’s full and effective participation and equal opportunities for leadership at all levels of decision-making in political, economic and public life.”

The Employment Insurance parental and caregiving benefits provide financial assistance to people who are away from work: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • because they're pregnant or have recently given birth, • to care for their newborn or newly adopted child, and/or, • providing care or support to a gravely ill or critically ill family member. 	The Employment Insurance parental and caregiving benefits contribute to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 5.3: "Canadians share responsibilities within households and families." Canadian Indicator Framework target 5.3.1: "Equal sharing of parenting roles and family responsibilities." Global Indicator Framework target 5.4: "Recognize and value unpaid care and domestic work through the provision of public services, infrastructure and social protection policies and the promotion of shared responsibility within the household and the family as nationally appropriate."

GOAL 8: ENCOURAGE INCLUSIVE AND SUSTAINABLE ECONOMIC GROWTH IN CANADA

FSDS Context:

In support of FSDS Goal 8, ESDC is taking steps to ensure that a fully representative Canadian workforce gets the skills, training and opportunities necessary to transition to net-zero and help Canadians thrive in a changing global economy. Owing to various programs, ESDC is focused on collaboration with employers as well as directly with Canadians to promote skills development and economic diversification in Canada’s environmental and clean technology sector.

For example, ESDC’s Apprenticeship Service helps apprentices get the hands-on experience they need for a career in the skilled trades. As part of the Canadian Apprenticeship Strategy, the initiative encourages small and medium-sized employers by offering a financial incentive for each first-year apprentice hired in one of 39 eligible Red Seal trades found predominately in the construction and manufacturing sectors. They can get an additional incentive when the apprentice hired is from an equity-deserving group - specifically, women, persons with disabilities, Indigenous people, and members of 2SLGBTQI+ communities, racialized communities, and newcomers. The department has also scaled up programs like the Youth Employment and Skills Strategy (YESS) that provides wraparound supports and job placements for young people facing employment barriers such as Indigenous, racialized youth, youth with disabilities, recent youth immigrants and youth in rural or remote areas.

Similarly, the Opportunities Fund (OF) for Persons with Disabilities will support the implementation of Canada’s Employment Strategy for Canadians with Disabilities. The OF program intends to increase labour market participation for Persons with Disabilities by providing participants with employment supports to help them find and keep jobs. The program will also help participants advance in their careers and help employers create inclusive, accessible and welcoming workplaces for persons with disabilities. Training will also be provided to those with or without disabilities who are in occupations that support persons with disabilities such as sign language interpreters. With a target of 3,355 participants by March 2024, the Opportunities Fund contributes to advancing the 2030 Agenda through its work to support increasing access to the labour market and improving the economic inclusion and quality of life for persons with disabilities.

ESDC's Sectoral Workforce Solutions Program (SWSP) helps key sectors of the economy implement solutions to address their current and emerging workforce needs. SWSP supports projects that focus on a range of industry-driven activities such as training and reskilling workers, helping employers retain and attract a skilled and diverse workforce, and labour market information and tools to help sectors address needs. This year, the program intends to connect up to 30,000 Canadians with the training they need to access good jobs. The program will help address workforce needs across many sectors including, but not limited to: agri-food and agriculture, construction, health, information and communications technologies, manufacturing, natural resources and environment, tourism, and transportation.

ESDC will also test a community-based approach via its Community Workforce Development Program. This program will advance regional and national priorities through local leadership in areas such as decarbonization, technology adoption and blue economy. With an initial target of 25 communities, the program encourages diversity and inclusion with 75% of project participants from one or more underrepresented groups in the labour market. Evidence gathered will inform programs and whole-of-government priorities. This includes, for example, decarbonization and supporting a "just transition" for workers so that they are prepared to work in transforming sectors like energy.

In addition, the Enabling Fund for Official Language Minority Communities will aim to enhance the development and vitality of official language minority communities (OLMCs). These communities consist of Francophones who reside outside of Quebec or English-speaking residents of Quebec. The Program funds fourteen not-for-profit OLMC organizations to engage in economic and human resources development activities for their community. The agreements will last for a five-year period and were signed in March 2023.

Additional implementation strategy in support of goal 8.	ESDC will continue to help young people (aged 15 to 30 years) make a successful transition into the labour market, including jobs and skills training programs with a focus on innovation, Science Technology Engineering and Math (STEM) as well as green jobs and the environment. Program: The Youth Employment and Skills Strategy (YESS). YESS includes two programs: 1) The Youth Employment and Skills Strategy Program (YESSP), which is an ESDC-led horizontal initiative involving 11 other federal departments, agencies, and crown corporations; and 2) The Canada Summer Jobs (CSJ).	Performance indicator: Number of youth served. Starting point: 97,359 (2019-2020) Target: 75,240 by March 2024. They can get an additional incentive when the apprentice hired is from an equity-deserving group (specifically, women, persons with disabilities, Indigenous peoples, and members of 2SLGBTQI+ communities, racialized communities, and newcomers). In addition, the Apprenticeship Service provides

Initiatives advancing Canada’s implementation of SDG 8 – Decent Work and Economic Growth

The following initiatives demonstrate how ESDC programming supports the 2030 Agenda and SDG 8, supplementing the information outlined above.

PLANNED INITIATIVES	ASSOCIATED DOMESTIC TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS
The Accessible Canada Act requires entities that are subject to the Act to identify, remove and prevent barriers to accessibility in seven priority areas including employment. When barriers to employment are removed, Canadians with disabilities have increased skill development and employment opportunities. In addition, workplaces are more accommodating and persons with disabilities can participate more fully in the labour market economy. This helps communities and Canada’s economy thrive so that all Canadians benefit. In 2023 to 2024, the department will fund projects aimed at increasing capacity in the professional sign language interpretation sector across Canada. Eligible funding recipients may include entities such as sign language education institutions, professional associations representing interpreters, and community organizations representing sign language users. In 2023 to 2024, the department will continue its work on the development of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) accessibility regulations. ICT is a major gateway to employment. Once finalized, the ICT accessibility regulations will contribute towards removing barriers in federally regulated workplaces. The program also hosted a virtual career fair as part of the Canadian Congress on Disability Inclusion (CCDI) in 2022 and 2023, These career fairs connected persons with disabilities with employment opportunities.	The Accessible Canada Act contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.” Performance indicators that support measuring progress in the removal of barriers to employment will be finalized in 2023 to 2024.
The Temporary Foreign Worker (TFW) Program has launched the new Migrant Worker Support Program to help workers better understand and exercise their rights. This is achieved by supporting community-based organizations in the provision of migrant worker-centric programs and services, which includes on-arrival orientation services, educational activities and/or materials and assistance in emergency and at-risk situations. The TFW Program is responsible for employer inspections, which help to protect temporary foreign workers from abuse and exploitation, and to protect the integrity of the Canadian labour market by encouraging employers to comply with program conditions. The Department is also focusing its efforts on rebuilding the compliance regime to ensure inspections are delivered with a renewed focus on increased quality,	The TFW Program will contribute to advancing: UN Global Indicator Framework target 8.8: “Protect labour rights and promote safe and secure working environments for all workers, including migrant workers, in particular women migrants, and those in precarious employment.”

timeliness and reach to protect the health and safety of temporary foreign workers. In addition, Budget 2023 announced funding to include more TFW Program inspectors and maintain the worker protection tip line, which offers workers a personalized service in over 200 languages to report allegations of abuse or mistreatment to agents answering the phone five days per week (with weekend voicemail service). These initiatives support the horizontal core theme of ‘Leaving No One Behind’. Improving the quality, timeliness and reach of inspections, and the supports delivered through Migrant Worker Support Program, are expected to be of particular benefit to higher-risk groups, including workers in racialized communities.
Canada-wide Early Learning and Child Care Agreements With the support of over $27 billion provided through the Canada-wide Early Learning and Child Care Agreements, provinces and territories have announced new investments in the early childhood workforce in areas such as hiring, retention, training, and wage increases. Further, in March 2023, the employment rate for women aged 25-54 in Canada was 82.0%. The employment rate for women with a child under 6 was 76.2%, a 1.7% increase from a year prior. The Bank of Canada’s recent analysis suggests a rise in the labour market participation rate among women could be due to lower average fees for regulated child care under the Canada-wide early learning and child care system.	The Canada-wide Early Learning and Child Care Agreements contribute to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework Indicator 8.1.1: Unemployment rate and Labour force characteristics. Canadian Indicator Framework Indicator 8.2.1: Proportion of employees earning less than 66% of the median hourly wage for permanent full-time employees. Global Indicator Framework Indicators: 8.5: By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value 8.5.1 Average hourly earnings of employees, by sex, age, occupation, and persons with disabilities 8.5.2 Unemployment rate, by sex, age, and persons with disabilities 8.6.1 Proportion of youth (aged 15–24 years) not in education, employment, or training
Under the Labour Market Development Agreements (LMDAs) and the Workforce Development Agreements (WDAs) with provinces and territories, the department helps people across the country prepare for, find, and keep employment. Under the LMDAs, employment benefits enable eligible unemployed individuals to gain skills and work experience through programming such as skills training and wage subsidies. Programs delivered under the Programs delivered under the LMDAs and WDAs provide skills training and employment programming with a focus on those further removed from the labour market and those wishing to upskill. Both the LMDAs and WDAs support a culture of lifelong learning to equip Canadians with skills to thrive in an evolving labour market.	The Labour Market Development Agreements and the Workforce Development Agreements contribute to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.”
The Indigenous Skills and Employment Training Program is a distinctions-based labour market program designed to support First Nations, Inuit, Métis and Urban/non-affiliated Indigenous people improve their skills and meet their long-term career goals to reduce the skills and employment gaps between Indigenous and non-Indigenous people. These supports are provided by an Indigenous service delivery network, supporting reconciliation and self-determination as priorities are set by Indigenous communities.	The Indigenous Skills and Employment Training Program and the Skills and Partnership Fund contribute to advancing: Global Indicator Framework Target 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.” Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 8.1: “Canadians have access to quality jobs.”

	Global Indicator Framework Target 8.6: “By 2020, substantially reduce the proportion of youth not in employment, education or training.”
The Canadian Apprenticeship Strategy’s Women in the Skilled Trades initiative funds projects that aim to recruit, retain, and help women apprentices succeed in 39 eligible Red Seal trades found predominantly in the construction and manufacturing sectors. Projects are anticipated to be implemented in 2023 to 2024.	The Canadian Apprenticeship Strategy’s Women in the Skilled Trades initiative contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value”.
The Women’s Employment Readiness Pilot Program , run under the Skills for Success Program, funds organizations to provide and test pre-employment and skill development supports for 4 groups of women: racialized women and/or Indigenous women; women with disabilities; women from the 2SLGBTQI+ community; and women with prolonged workforce detachment. The pilot also tests ways to improve employer inclusivity. Results will inform systemic changes to skills and employment programming for women.	The Women’s Employment Readiness Pilot Program also contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 8.1 “Canadians have access to quality jobs.” Global Indicator Framework target 8.5 “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.”
The new Union Training and Innovation Program sustainable jobs funding stream under the Canadian Apprenticeship Strategy announced in the 2022 Fall Economic Statement will support unions in leading the development of green skills training for 20,000 apprentices and journeypersons in the trades. This new stream is expected to support the Greening Government Strategy as well as the DSDS goals and targets.	The new Union Training and Innovation Program sustainable jobs stream under the Canadian Apprenticeship Strategy will contribute to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 8.6: “Canadians contribute to and benefit from sustainable economic growth”. Canadian Indicator Framework target 8.6: “Achieve an 8% growth in jobs in the clean technology sector by March 31, 2024.” Global Indicator Framework target 8.3: “Promote policies to support job creation and growing enterprises.”
The Skills for Success Program funds organizations to deliver training, and to develop assessment tools and training resources to help Canadians to improve their foundational and transferable skills. This helps them to learn other skills (technical and job specific) so that they can adapt and thrive in a rapidly changing labour market.	The Skills for Success Program funds organizations to design and deliver foundational and transferable skills training that contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 8.5 “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.”
The Skills and Employment Branch has developed a gender-based analysis plus strategy to strengthen skills programs and policies’ ability to tackle the barriers limiting the full participation of diverse groups of women, men, non-binary and other gendered people in the labour market. This is done by building the internal analytical capacity of staff and improving GBA plus data quality to ensure Skills programs promote gender equality, diversity, and inclusion data, through three main pillars, which are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Capacity Building • Data Investments • Policy Guidance and Support 	The Skills and Employment Branch GBA+ Strategy contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 8.5: “Canadians contribute to and benefit from sustainable economic growth.”

Provide 10 days of paid sick leave for employees in federally regulated private sector that affords them job protection and income security while taking medical leave for personal health, illness or mental health reasons, and addiction treatment. Providing 10 days of paid sick leave to all employees in federally regulated private sector supports Leaving No One Behind as it ensures that workers can take paid sick leave, thereby providing income and protection to workers who may experience inequalities and vulnerabilities.	Provide 10 days of paid sick leave for federally regulated workers contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition: 8.5: “Canadians contribute to and benefit from sustainable economic growth.” Global Indicator Framework target: 8.3: “Promote development-oriented policies that support productive activities, decent job creation, entrepreneurship, creativity and innovation, and encourage the formalization and growth of micro-, small- and medium-sized enterprises, including through access to financial services.” Global Indicator Framework target: 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.”
Negotiation and implementation of labour provisions of free trade agreements. As an ongoing activity, Canada negotiates enforceable labour commitments in free trade agreements to effectively implement their labour laws, which should in turn reflect and embody internationally recognized labour standards. Additionally, this supports the compliance of partner countries with international labour standards, including freedom of association and collective bargaining.	Negotiation and implementation of labour provisions of free trade agreements contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework: 8.8: “Protect labour rights and promote safe and secure working environments for all workers, including migrant workers, in particular women migrants, and those in precarious employment.”
Forced Labour in Global Supply Chain initiatives. The department is working with key federal departments on the Government’s commitment to introduce legislation to eradicate forced labour from Canadian supply chains. The department also supports a range of other initiatives including the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA)’s operationalization of the prohibition on the importation of goods produced in whole or in part by forced labour under the Customs Tariff. In addition, comprehensive and enforceable labour provisions are included in Canada’s free trade agreements to uphold labour protections, including addressing forced labour and child labour, and capacity-building funding to assist partner countries in meeting these obligations is provided.	Forced Labour in Global Supply initiatives contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target: 8.7: “Take immediate and effective measures to eradicate forced labour, end modern slavery and human trafficking and secure the prohibition and elimination of the worst forms of child labour, including recruitment and use of child soldiers, and by 2025, end child labour in all its forms.”
Eradicate the misclassification of employees in the federally regulated road transportation industry. Employee misclassification happens when an employer does not consider, nor treats a person who is an employee, as an employee. As a result, the employee cannot access standards and benefits that they would normally be entitled to. Addressing misclassification of employees in the federally regulated road transportation industry supports Leaving No One Behind, as it will ensure that all employees in the road transportation industry can benefit from their labour rights and protections equally.	Eradicate the misclassification of employees contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition: 8.5 “Canadians contribute to and benefit from sustainable economic growth.” Global Indicator Framework target: 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.”

The Government of Canada plans to amend the Canada Labour Code to create a new stand-alone leave for workers in federally regulated sectors who experience a pregnancy loss.	Creating a new leave for pregnancy loss contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition: 8.3 “Canadians have access to quality jobs.” Global Indicator Framework target: 8.8 “Protect labour rights and promote safe and secure working environments for all workers, including migrant workers, in particular women migrants, and those in precarious employment”.

The Government of Canada is also proposing regulations to provide menstrual products in federally regulated workplaces to support and ensure all employees’ participation at work, including gender-diverse employees.	Provide menstrual products contributes to advancing: UN Global Indicator Framework target: 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.”
The Government of Canada proposes to amend the Canada Labour Code to improve job protections for federally regulated gig workers by strengthening prohibitions against employee misclassification. This will help ensure all federally regulated workers receive the protections and employer contributions to which they are entitled.	Amending the Canada Labour Code to improve job protections for federally regulated gig workers contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition: 8.5: “Canadians contribute to and benefit from sustainable economic growth.” UN Global Indicator Framework target: 8.5: “By 2030, achieve full and productive employment and decent work for all women and men, including for young people and persons with disabilities, and equal pay for work of equal value.” UN Global Indicator Framework target: 8.8 “Protect labour rights and promote safe and secure working environments for all workers, including migrant workers, in particular women migrants, and those in precarious employment.”

GOAL 9: FOSTER INNOVATION AND GREEN INFRASTRUCTURE IN CANADA

Initiatives advancing Canada’s implementation of SDG 9 – Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure

The following initiatives demonstrate how ESDC programming supports the 2030 Agenda and the SDG 9.

PLANNED INITIATIVES	ASSOCIATED DOMESTIC TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS
As part of the Future Skills Initiative, ESDC funds the Future Skills Centre, an independent innovation and applied research centre. The Centre prototypes, tests, and evaluates innovative approaches to skills assessment, training, and development. One of the Centre’s areas of focus is Skills for a Net-Zero Economy. So far, the Centre has implemented 240 innovation and research projects spanning over 20 industries that will directly benefit from the Centre’s work. To date, these projects have helped over 50,000 Canadians access skills training and/or employment. In addition, over 79% of the Centre’s funding supports underrepresented groups including women, racialized groups, Indigenous Peoples, and persons with disabilities.	The Future Skills Centre’s work contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 9.1: Canada fosters sustainable research and innovation.
The Accessible Canada Act requires entities identify, remove and prevent barriers to accessibility in seven priority areas. These include areas that support inclusive industrialization, such as transportation, the built environment, and information and communications technologies (ICT). As barriers in these areas are removed over time and it becomes the norm to consider accessibility from the start, it will be easier for persons with disabilities to access information, public buildings and use public transportation systems.	The Accessible Canada Act contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 9.1: “Develop quality, reliable, sustainable and resilient infrastructure, including regional and transborder infrastructure, to support economic development and human well-being, with a focus on affordable and equitable access for all.” Performance indicators that support measuring progress in the removal of barriers to accessibility in the areas of transportation and ICT will be published in 2023.
Alternate Format Business Technology Challenge ESDC joined forces with Innovation, Science and Economic Development (ISED) to create the Alternate Format Business Technology Challenge. The purpose of the challenge is to encourage innovation. This helps increase access to alternate format materials for Canadians with print disabilities. This project will develop an assistive voice app that would include new software and the use of smart speakers.	The Alternate Format Business Technology Challenge contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.1: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.”

	Global Indicator Framework target 10.2: “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.”

GOAL 10: ADVANCE RECONCILIATION WITH INDIGENOUS PEOPLES AND TAKE ACTION ON INEQUALITY

FSDS Context:

ESDC recognizes the importance of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples Act (UNDRIP), and actively supports the advancement of reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples via ongoing efforts in the development, design and implementation of its programs and services, as well as the department's internal operations.

Co-developed with a network of Indigenous partners across Canada, the department's Indigenous Skills and Employment Training Program intends to serve and support skills development, training, and employment by way of a distinctions-based approach to better meet the needs of First Nations, Inuit, Métis, and Urban/Non-affiliated Indigenous people. By March 31, 2024, the Indigenous Skills and Employment Training Program intends to serve at least 40,000 new Indigenous participants and support at least 16,500 Indigenous people find employment. Looking ahead, ESDC will continue to work with Indigenous partners to test new approaches to investment coordination, priority setting and project and partnership development under the Skills and Partnership Fund. This Fund will also support sustainable employment and help ensure projects funded to provide skills training continue to meet the needs of Indigenous communities and employers.

The department will also work to reduce inequality by focusing its efforts on removing barriers faced by persons with disabilities, through its implementation of the Disability Inclusion Action Plan (DIAP). Persons with disabilities represent a diverse and significant portion of the Canadian population. Almost 1 in 3 Indigenous people have a disability—a much higher rate than that of the general population. ESDC will use GBA plus analysis to inform an intersectional approach to serve populations experiencing disability. To support the approach, the department is engaging with National Indigenous Organizations and holders of Modern Treaty and Self-Government Agreements to ensure the specific concerns of Indigenous populations are addressed in a culturally appropriate manner and meet all necessary modern treaty obligations and commitments.

And finally, ESDC will also work to reduce inequality through new funding models. Initiatives like the Black-led Philanthropic Endowment Fund demonstrate the department is creating long-term sustainable funding and self-sustaining resources for Black-led, Black-focused, and Black-serving organizations in Canada. The fund is led by Black communities in Canada and will support projects that seek to combat anti-Black racism and increase social and economic outcomes for Black communities.

Target theme: Advancing reconciliation with First Nations, Inuit, and Métis communities.

Target: Between 2023 and 2026, and every year on an ongoing basis, develop and table annual progress reports on implementing the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples Act (Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada)

Implement the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples Act.	ESDC will provide Indigenous cultural competency training and/or training on the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. All employees need to complete at least one Indigenous Awareness and Reconciliation learning activity which can be, for example, a course offered through the Canada School of Public Service (PSPC) or participating in an Indigenous Employees’ Circle, or an Indigenous Learning Event hosted by the ESDC College. Initiative: ESDC Essential Training Curriculum for Employees.	Performance indicator: Percentage of staff who have completed Indigenous cultural competency training (internal or external). Starting point: Actual of staff trained for 2022-23: 81% Target: Achieve and maintain 100%, annually	As part of the ESDC Essential Training Curriculum for Employees, all indeterminate and term employees across ESDC, Service Canada and the Labour Program must complete Indigenous Awareness and Reconciliation learning activities. Target is not yet available.	The Skills and Partnership Fund contributes to the FSDS goal 10 and Canada’s 2030 Agenda as the SPF is a project-based fund that supports partnerships between Indigenous organizations and industry employers to provide skills training for Indigenous peoples linked to economic opportunities at the local, regional and national level. Funding recipients deliver supports and services to First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples to help them develop the necessary skills and training to secure jobs which advances reconciliation with Indigenous peoples and takes action on inequality. Relevant targets or ambitions: CIF Ambition/Target: 10.1 Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced. CIF Indicator: 10.1.1 Gini Coefficient GIF Target: 10.2 By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.

Support economic development and entrepreneurship in Indigenous communities.	ESDC will use the Social Finance Fund to facilitate investments in a range of diverse social purpose organizations, that are led by or serving diverse equity deserving groups. $50 million of the Social Finance Fund was allocated to the Indigenous Growth Fund (IGF), which provides access to capital for Indigenous Financial Institutions and Indigenous small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). Through wholesalers (investment managers) Indigenous-led and Indigenous-serving social finance intermediaries (e.g., credit unions, private equity firms, etc.), and social purpose organizations (SPOs), can access financing to grow their businesses and support economic reconciliation and development in their communities. The $50 million of the SFF allocated towards the IGF is managed by NACCA, a network of over 50 Aboriginal Financial Institutions. This allocation supports the self-governance of Indigenous peoples and advances Indigenous economic development. In support of Canada’s 2030 Agenda National Strategy, the Social Finance Fund is contributing to Canada’s commitment for Indigenous self-determination through its investment into Indigenous-led businesses, projects, and into Indigenous communities. Relevant targets or ambitions: CIF Ambition/Target: 10.1 Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced. CIF Indicator: 10.4.1 Median household after-tax income. GIF Target: 10.2 By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.

Support economic development and entrepreneurship in Indigenous communities.	In response to the Mandatory Procedures for Contracts Awarded to Indigenous Businesses, ESDC will continue to implement its Indigenous Procurement Strategy. To ensure the success of the strategy, the department is updating procurement documents and web pages, providing training and information sessions to procurement personnel as well as liaising with other government departments (ISC, TBS, PSPC). In 2023-24, the department will also be reaching out to the Indigenous business community by issuing a Request for Information (RFI) looking at increasing communications and/or opportunities for strategy implementation. Relevant targets or ambitions: GIF targets: 10.3 Ensure equal opportunity and reduce inequalities of outcome, including by eliminating discriminatory laws, policies and practices and promoting appropriate legislation, policies and action in this regard. 10.4 Adopt policies, especially fiscal, wage and social protection policies, and progressively achieve greater equality.

While the Accessible Canada Act (ACA) applies to First Nations band councils, they are currently not required to comply with the Act by virtue of an exemption in the Accessible Canada Regulations that were published in December 2021. The Government of Canada is currently working with First Nations to identify options for a tailored approach to implementation of the ACA on reserve in line with the commitment included in the 2023 United Nations Declaration for the Rights of Indigenous Persons Act (UNDA) Action Plan. The small projects component provides grant funding for small-scale construction and communication technology projects that improve accessibility in communities or workplaces. Grants can be up to $100,000 per project. 3. The mid-sized projects component gives funding for larger construction projects. The SFF is particularly focused on ensuring investment reaches social finance intermediaries (e.g., credit union, private equity), and social purpose organizations that are led by equity-deserving groups, which includes Black peoples and support to Black communities. Initiatives advancing Canada’s implementation of SDG 10 – Reduced Inequalities

The following initiatives demonstrate how ESDC programming supports the 2030 Agenda and SDG 10, supplementing the information outlined above.

PLANNED INITIATIVES	ASSOCIATED DOMESTIC TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS
Supporting Black Canadian Communities Initiative (SBCCI) The SBCCI takes targeted measures to build capacity and foundational infrastructure in Black communities. For example, through Capital Assistance, SBCCI dedicates funds for technology adaptation, equipment purchases, and for renovations or retrofits of existing workspaces or community spaces. SBCCI also supports capacity-building of Black-led, Black-serving community-based organizations to improve their efficiency and reduce existing gaps in adequate funding for community organizations between Black-serving organizations and non-Black-serving organizations. An additional example of reducing inequality within Canada is the establishment of the SBCCI External Reference Group (ERG). The members reflect Canada’s ethnocultural, gender, regional and linguistic diversity and support the Minister of Diversity, Inclusion and Persons with Disabilities in ensuring the meaningful implementation of the SBCCI to help build capacity within communities by providing strategic advice, expertise and insight on the emerging priorities of Black Canadians, and to support the advancement of the Government of Canada’s commitments related to the United Nations International Decade for People of African Descent.	The Supporting Black Canadian Communities Initiative contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.1: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.” Global Indicator Framework target 10.2: “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.”
COVID-19 Disability Advisory Group (CDAG) The COVID-19 Disability Advisory Group (CDAG) provides advice in relation to the disability inclusion and accessibility priorities of the Government of Canada. The Government of Canada established the CDAG, composed of experts in disability inclusion, in April 2020 to provide real-time expert advice on the lived experiences of persons with disabilities and ensure a disability-inclusive approach to the Government of Canada’s response to the pandemic, in keeping with a “Nothing Without Us” approach. The Minister of Employment, Workforce Development and Disability Inclusion has since renewed and expanded the CDAG’s mandate several times, most recently in November 2022. Its current mandate focuses on providing expert advice on disability inclusion within Government of Canada priorities and on implementation of programs and policies.	The CDAG contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.1: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.” Global Indicator Framework targets: 10.1 “By 2023, progressively achieve and sustain income growth of the bottom 40 percent of the population at a rate higher than the national average.” 10.2 “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.” 10.3: “Ensure equal opportunity and reduce inequalities of outcome, including by eliminating discriminatory laws, policies and practices and promoting appropriate legislation, policies and action in this regard.”

	10.4: “Adopt policies, especially fiscal, wage and social protection policies, and progressively achieve greater equality.”
CRPD and its Optional Protocol Canada ratified the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD) in 2010 and acceded to its Optional Protocol in 2018. The protocol is a separate treaty that established an international complaints mechanism for rights under the CRPD. Canada has submitted its combined second and third reports to the UN Committee on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities. In the coming months, the Committee is expected to provide Canada with its date for appearance to answer questions about its report. The CRPD guided the development of Canada’s first-ever Disability Inclusion Action Plan.	Canada’s commitments under the CRPD contribute to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework target 10.2.1: “Proportion of population reporting discrimination or unfair treatment.” Global Indicator Framework targets: 10.2: “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status”; 10.3: “Ensure equal opportunity and reduce inequalities of outcome, including by eliminating discriminatory laws, policies and practices and promoting appropriate legislation, policies and action in this regard”; and 10.4: “Adopt policies, especially fiscal, wage and social protection policies, and progressively achieve greater equality.”
Social Development Partnerships Program (SDPP) Through the Social Inclusion call for proposals held in 2021, the Social Development Partnerships Program (SDPP) is funding projects that support the social inclusion and well-being of persons with disabilities, vulnerable children and youth. It also invests in projects that support minority-language community health and economic development as part of the Social Partnerships Initiative through the Official Languages Action Plan.	The Social Development and Partnership Program contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework target 10.2: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.”
The Youth Employment and Skills Strategy (YESS) helps young people (aged 15 to 30 years), particularly those facing barriers to employment, get the information and gain the skills, work experience and abilities they need to make a successful transition into the labour market.	The Youth Employment and Skills Strategy contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.1: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.” Global Indicator Framework Target 10.2: “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.”
The Indigenous Skills and Employment Training Program (ISET) is a distinctions-based labour market program designed to support First Nations, Inuit, Métis and Urban/non-affiliated Indigenous people improve their skills and meet their long-term career goals to reduce the skills and employment gaps between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples. These supports are provided by an Indigenous service delivery network, supporting reconciliation and self-determination as priorities are set by Indigenous communities. Through ISET, continue to support principles of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples Act and implementation through targeted Indigenous labour market programs to support skills development and employment of Indigenous people.	The Indigenous Skills and Employment Training Program contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.1: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.” Global Indicator Framework Target 10.2: “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.”

UNDA principles have already been built into the ISET program since it is co-developed with Indigenous partners, and First Nations/Métis/Inuit/Urban-Unaffiliated Indigenous service delivery organizations set priorities and design and deliver training to meet the needs of their respective communities/clients.
Under the Labour Market Development Agreements (LMDAs) and the Workforce Development Agreements (WDAs), with provinces and territories (PTs), the Government of Canada provides approximately $3 billion for individuals and employers to obtain skills training and employment supports. These agreements provide training and support to workers in obtaining the skills they need to capitalize on opportunities of an evolving labour market. More than a million training and employment supports are offered to individuals and employers under these agreements each year.	The Labour Market Development Agreements and the Workforce Development Agreements contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.2: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.”
The Opportunities Fund for Persons with Disabilities provides annual funding to help persons with disabilities prepare for, obtain and maintain employment, and advance in their careers. It supports persons with disabilities of various demographic groups (that is, gender, age, visible minorities, Indigenous, etc.) in overcoming barriers to participation in the Canadian labour market. It also supports employers to hire and retain persons with disabilities and create more inclusive and accessible workplaces.	The Opportunities Fund for Persons with Disabilities contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.1: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced.” Global Indicator Framework target 10.2: “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.”
The Enabling Fund for Official Language Minority Communities provides funding to non-profit organizations across Canada. This funding helps organizations to act within their communities to promote partnerships and leverage networks for united action. The program enhances the development and vitality of official language minority communities. It does this by strengthening capacity in the areas of human resource development and community economic development. It also promotes collaboration at all levels, including federal partners.	The Enabling Fund for Official Language Minority Communities contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 10.2: “By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.”
The Women’s Employment Readiness Pilot Program, under the Skills For Success program, funds organizations to provide and test pre-employment and skills development supports for 4 groups of women: racialized women and/or Indigenous women; women with disabilities; women from the 2SLGBTQI+ community; and women with prolonged workforce detachment. The pilot also tests ways to improve employer inclusivity. Results will inform systemic changes to skills and employment programming for women.	The Women’s Employment Readiness Pilot Program contributes to advancing: Canadian Indicator Framework ambition 10.1: “Canadians live free of discrimination and inequalities are reduced”, as well as ambitions 10.2 and 10.4. Global indicator Framework Goal 10: “Reduce inequality within and among countries”, and more specifically targets 10.1, 10.2, and 10.3.

GOAL 11: SUSTAINABLE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES

Initiatives advancing Canada’s implementation of SDG 11 – Sustainable Cities and Communities

The following initiatives demonstrate how ESDC programming supports the 2030 Agenda and SDG 11.

PLANNED INITIATIVES	ASSOCIATED DOMESTICS TARGETS OR AMBITIONS AND/OR GLOBAL TARGETS
The Enabling Accessibility Fund (EAF) funds projects that make Canadian communities and workplaces more accessible for persons with disabilities. For example, past EAF-funded projects have included multisensory rooms, which support people with cognitive and/or mental health disabilities. These rooms support the provision of mental health services in community spaces.	The Enabling Accessibility Fund (EAF) program contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 11.7: “By 2030, provide universal access to safe, inclusive and accessible, green and public spaces, in particular for women and children, older persons and persons with disabilities.”
The Accessible Canada Act requires entities that are subject to the Act to identify, remove and prevent barriers to accessibility in seven priority areas including the built environment and transportation, and employment. When barriers to employment are removed, Canadians with disabilities have increased skill development and employment opportunities. In addition, workplaces are more accommodating and persons with disabilities can participate more fully in the labour market economy. This helps communities and Canada’s economy thrive so that all Canadians benefit.	The Accessible Canada Act contributes to advancing: Global Indicator Framework target 11.7: “By 2030, provide universal access to safe, inclusive and accessible, green and public spaces, in particular for women and children, older persons and persons with disabilities.”

GOAL 12: REDUCE WASTE AND TRANSITION TO ZERO-EMISSION VEHICLES

FSDS Context:

ESDC recognizes the need to transition to a circular economy with net-zero carbon emissions to fight climate change and is working to incorporate Goal 12 strategies through a variety of programs. For example, the department has engaged with partners to reduce electronic landfill waste. ESDC's Computers to Schools program offers its unclassified digital devices to schools. Not only does this program extend the useful life of computer assets and parts, but remaining components are sent to provincially licensed recycling facilities instead of landfills.

ESDC has also shown a commitment to responsible consumption by transitioning to zero-emission vehicles. The department is actively collecting and analyzing vehicle usage data to help identify where replacing older vehicles with zero-emission light-duty vehicles would make the most impact. The department's transition towards net-zero emissions is made possible as a result of the strengthening of its green procurement criteria. By procuring only Energy Star or EPEAT certified devices, the department is encouraging major suppliers to improve while reducing its countrywide footprint at the same time.

Target theme: Federal Leadership on Responsible Consumption

Target: By 2030, the Government of Canada will divert from landfill at least 75% by weight of non-hazardous operational waste (All Ministers)

GOAL 13: TAKE ACTION ON CLIMATE CHANGE AND ITS IMPACTS

FSDS Context:

ESDC acknowledges the urgency with which climate change needs to be addressed. We will work with Public Services and Procurement Canada to modernize via net-zero carbon buildings, adopt greener and more sustainable operations and reduce the risks posed by climate change to federal assets, services and operations. One such action has been by piloting a tree planting initiative for a real property project in British Columbia which will offset up to 25,000 tons of CO₂ emissions.

Similarly, ESDC has identified the oncoming wave of electric vehicles and has been including the installation of EV (Electric Vehicles) chargers where possible during National Accommodation projects to move its conventional fleet emissions towards a net-zero. As the Federal Government's fourth-largest employer, ESDC is also encouraging employees to use low-carbon forms of transportation for commuting as well as facilitating hybrid work arrangements to reduce daily travel.

Under the Emergency Management and Assistance program, ESDC is mitigating climate change impacts on the Department's services and benefits delivered to Canadians. This means that the department has been incorporating climate change factors into its departmental risk and business assessments, training, and planning. And while the department has successfully lowered its overall Greenhouse Gas emissions by 79% from 2005 levels, it will continue to explore new initiatives to further lead the way to reducing the impact of climate change in government operations.

SECTION 5

Integrating Sustainable Development

ESDC's Strategic Environmental Assessment Process

ESDC will continue to ensure that its decision-making process includes consideration of FSDS goals and targets via its Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA) process. A SEA for a policy, plan or program proposal includes an analysis of the impacts of the given proposal on the environment, including on relevant FSDS goals and targets.

Statements on the results of ESDC's assessments are made public when an initiative that has undergone a detailed SEA. The purpose of the public statement is to demonstrate that the environmental effects, including the impacts on achieving the FSDS goals and targets, of the approved policy, plan or program have been considered during proposal development and decision-making.

ESDC will continue to consider sustainable development in its internal policy and operational processes in the following ways:

Expanding our Social Equity lens through new tools and training

In addition to its SEA process, ESDC is committed to assessing the impact of its policies, plans and project proposals on diverse groups of individuals. In addition to the Gender-Based Analysis Plus (GBA +) assessment of proposals, ESDC's GBA+ Centre of Excellence has recently expanded its assessment tools to include a new Black-Centric Lens (BCL). Launched in February 2023, the BCL recognizes the unique barriers faced by many Black people in Canada and supports the department in building greater relationships with Black communities while improving our services.

As well as new GBA+ analysis tools, ESDC continues to build knowledge and awareness across the department in advancing reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples. In addition to the Indigenous Awareness and Reconciliation learning requirements that form part of ESDC's Essential Training Criteria for all employees, ESDC College is developing an Indigenous Learning Strategy in collaboration with external Indigenous stakeholders.

Increasing our Service Impact through Stakeholder Engagement

The programs and services the department delivers are essential in the lives of Canadians. The department is committed to increasing its understanding of service barriers that prevent marginalized and underserved Canadians from receiving the benefits to which they are entitled. Improving access to services and benefits for all eligible Canadians will continue to be a priority in advancing our contributions to FSDS and SDG goals and targets, particularly our leadership in advancing FSDS Goal 1: Reduce Poverty in Canada in all its forms. As a result of its Reaching All Canadians initiative, the department is working with the Canada Revenue Agency and Statistics Canada to gain insights into hard-to-reach populations in support of increasing benefit uptake for eligible Canadians.

The department is also working to implement the Accessibility Plan for Client Service. This plan proposes 17 measures to be put in place between 2023 and 2025. The measures are aimed at improving the accessibility of service delivery channels (in-person, online, phone) for persons with disabilities. As part of the Accessibility Plan for Client Service, the department will develop a process to include persons with disabilities in the design or redesign of programs and services. This plan will help to reduce or remove barriers that could otherwise limit access to services.

Our Service Canada Regions Service Delivery actively supports the delivery of a wide array of essential services at hundreds of Service Canada Centres across the country. Service Canada's Indigenous Program Delivery will continue to conduct virtual engagements with Indigenous Peoples to remove barriers to service delivery and to help build capacity for programs such as the Indigenous Skills and Employment Training, Indigenous Early Learning and Child Care, and Skills and Partnership Fund. By using virtual platforms, engagements reduce the carbon footprint while providing effective forums for consultations and collaborations.

Continuous Improvement through a Results and Delivery Approach

As the largest government service delivery department, ESDC is committed to improving client service experience and outcomes, supported by increasingly seamless digital services. Looking ahead, the department will continue to deliver on IT upgrade projects that modernize systems that support programs and services such as Pensions, Employment Insurance, Passport, and Grants and Contributions. The department's multi-year Benefits Delivery Modernization Programme is designed to deliver the future state client experience for the Old Age Security (OAS), Employment Insurance (EI), and Canada Pension Plan (CPP). This will be achieved by way of modernizing technology platform streamlining benefit processing, providing new digital services, and enhancing service management capabilities. These initiatives provide Canadians with a more accessible and sustainable client experience via digital channels and reduce the need for travel to Service Canada Centres.

In addition, through its Data Strategy, the department will continue the development of the data analytical infrastructure tools and supports needed to store, manage, share, and use data securely. ESDC has launched and is continuing to update a departmental Data Literacy Program to improve competencies that support evidence-based decision-making and the shift to a data-enabled and data-driven culture. The department will also continue to collaborate internally and with other government departments and agencies to publicly share more data to fill key data gaps. These efforts will improve the department's understanding of clients, including at-risk Canadians, as well as the impacts of programs and services.

ESDC is also focused on creating a more diverse, inclusive, and accessible workplace, and taking steps to improve the day-to-day experience of the employees that work in the department. The department is completing an Employment System Review in the summer of 2023 to identify and remove systemic barriers, expand workplace accommodation advisory services, and implement the ESDC Accessibility Plan. Looking ahead, this review will also support the department's efforts to advance its 2020 to 2024 Diversity and Inclusion Action Plan, supporting continuous learning and growth opportunities for ESDC staff in areas such as Indigenous reconciliation, accessibility, and data literacy.

As a result of these initiatives to further integrate sustainable development into our activities, ESDC will be able to better deliver on its commitments to improve the lives of Canadians socially and economically. Further, our country will grow and prosper in ways that are equitable, fair, sustainable and protect our environment.
