Scenario 1:
You automatically acquired Canadian citizenship in 2009 or 2015 and you were issued a citizenship certificate after those dates.

Send the documents listed above.

Scenario 2:
You were born outside Canada on or after February 15, 1977 to a parent born before January 1, 1947 (April 1, 1949 in the case of Newfoundland and Labrador) who became a Canadian citizen on June 11, 2015 under one paragraphs 3(1)(k) to (n) and you automatically acquired Canadian citizenship on June 11, 2015.

- A birth certificate (or if unobtainable other evidence that establishes your date and place of birth) which lists your parents (issued by the responsible government authority in the country or territory where you were born);
- Proof that one or both of your natural parents acquired citizenship under the legislative amendments to the Citizenship Act on June 11, 2015 such as your parent's provincial or territorial birth certificate, British naturalization certificate or Canadian citizenship certificate or proof that they were ordinarily resident in Canada on January 1, 1947 (or in Newfoundland and Labrador on April 1, 1949) (example: employment or school documents).

Scenario 3:
You were formerly a Canadian citizen, ceased to be a citizen under former legislation, had not resumed citizenship since its loss and you automatically acquired Canadian citizenship on April 17, 2009.

- Proof that you were formerly a Canadian citizen (birth certificate or if unobtainable other evidence that establishes your date and place of birth, Registration of Birth Abroad certificate, citizenship/naturalization certificate);
- Proof that you ceased to be a Canadian citizen (letter from IRCC confirming loss of citizenship, foreign naturalization certificate).

Scenario 4:
You were born outside Canada between January 1, 1947 and February 15, 1977 to a Canadian parent or a parent who became a citizen as a result of the legislative amendments to the Citizenship Act in 2009 or 2015 and you automatically acquired Canadian citizenship in 2009 or 2015.

- A birth certificate (or if unobtainable other evidence that establishes your date and place of birth) which lists your parents (issued by the responsible government authority in the country or territory where you were born);
- Proof that one or both of your natural parents were Canadian citizens when you were born, such as your parent's provincial or territorial birth certificate, Canadian citizenship certificate, British naturalization certificate or proof that they were ordinarily resident in Canada on January 1, 1947 (or in Newfoundland and Labrador on April 1, 1949) (example: employment or school documents).

Scenario 5:
You were born or naturalized in Canada before January 1, 1947 (or April 1, 1949 in the case of Newfoundland and Labrador), ceased to be a British subject under former legislation, you did not become a Canadian citizen on January 1, 1947 (or on or before April 1, 1949) and you automatically acquired Canadian citizenship on June 11, 2015.

- Proof that you were formerly a British subject:
  - birth certificate or, if unobtainable;
  - other evidence that establishes your date and place of birth such as naturalization certificate or;
  - marriage certificate.
- Proof that you ceased to be a British subject (letter from IRCC confirming loss of British subject status, if available, foreign naturalization certificate).
Scenario 6: You were a British subject who was ordinarily resident in Canada on January 1, 1947 (or in Newfoundland and Labrador on April 1, 1949), you did not become a Canadian citizen on January 1, 1947 (or on or before April 1, 1949) and you automatically acquired Canadian citizenship on June 11, 2015.

- Proof that you were formerly a British subject:
  - birth certificate or, if unobtainable;
  - other evidence that establishes your date and place of birth such as naturalization certificate or;
  - marriage certificate.

- Proof that you were ordinarily resident in Canada on January 1, 1947 (or in Newfoundland and Labrador on April 1, 1949) (example: employment or school documents).

Scenario 7: You were born outside Canada and Newfoundland and Labrador before January 1, 1947 (or April 1, 1949) to a parent who became a Canadian citizen automatically on June 11, 2015 under paragraph (k) or (m) (or under paragraph (l) or (n)), you did not become a citizen on January 1, 1947 (or on or before April 1, 1949), and you automatically acquired Canadian citizenship on June 11, 2015.

- A birth certificate (or if unobtainable, other evidence that establishes your date and place of birth) which lists your parents (issued by the responsible government authority in the country or territory where you were born);

- Proof that one or both of your natural parents acquired citizenship under the legislative amendments to the Citizenship Act on June 11, 2015, such as your parent's provincial or territorial birth certificate, Canadian citizenship certificate, British naturalization certificate or proof that they were ordinarily resident in Canada on January 1, 1947 (or in Newfoundland and Labrador on April 1, 1949) (for example: employment or school documents).

Scenario 8: You were born outside Canada and Newfoundland and Labrador before January 1, 1947 (or April 1, 1949) to a parent who became a citizen on January 1, 1947 (or on or before April 1, 1949), you did not become a citizen on January 1, 1947 (or on or before April 1, 1949), and you automatically acquired Canadian citizenship on June 11, 2015.

- A birth certificate (or, if unobtainable, other evidence that establishes your date and place of birth) which lists your parents (issued by the responsible government authority in the country or territory where you were born);
