Did You Know?

The Parole Board of Canada is the official and only federal agency responsible for making record suspension decisions under the Criminal Records Act. Under this act, the Parole Board of Canada can order, refuse to order, and revoke a record suspension.

You can apply directly for a record suspension (or pardon*) to the Parole Board of Canada. You do not need a lawyer or representative to apply.

All you need to do is follow the step-by-step instructions in this guide and pay the Application Processing Fee of $50.00 (CDN).

Please note that you are also responsible for any additional fees required as part of your application, such as fingerprints, copies of your criminal record, court documents and police checks.

IMPORTANT!

➤ You must answer all questions truthfully and completely. Hiding information or making false statements could cause your application to be returned to you or your record suspension to be revoked or ceased at a later date.

➤ A record suspension does not erase the fact that you were convicted of a crime, but keeps the record separate and apart from other records. A new conviction or other evidence establishing to the satisfaction of the Parole Board of Canada you are no longer of good conduct may lead to the reactivation of your criminal record.

➤ You do not need a record suspension to obtain a passport. A record suspension does not guarantee you entry or visa privileges to another country. Before you go, contact the authorities of any country you wish to visit to find out what you need to do to enter that country.

➤ The Parole Board of Canada does not give preferential treatment to any application. All applications are treated the same.

* Your application will be processed using the Criminal Records Act eligibility criteria in place at the time of the first offence. Consult page 2 of this guide to see which eligibility criteria apply to you.
Do you need to apply for a record suspension?

You MAY apply for a record suspension if you:

› were convicted of an offence in Canada under a federal act or regulation of Canada as an adult; and/or
› were convicted of a crime in another country and were transferred to Canada under the Transfer of Offenders Act or the International Transfer of Offenders Act.

You DO NOT need to apply for a record suspension if you:

› have only received an absolute or conditional discharge*; or
› were only convicted in a youth court or youth justice court.

* For more information, contact the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Pardon & Purge Services.
 Your record(s) will be destroyed or archived once all applicable time periods have elapsed under the Young Offenders Act or the Youth Criminal Justice Act.

You MAY NOT be eligible for a record suspension if your first offence was committed on or after March 13, 2012 and you:

› have been convicted to a prison term of 2 years or more for more than three indictable offences; or
› were convicted of an offence found in Schedule I of the Criminal Records Act and do not meet the exception criteria (consult Step 6 of this guide).

IMPORTANT!

› A record suspension will have no effect on your driving or weapons prohibition orders.
› The Parole Board of Canada has no jurisdiction over youth offences recorded before 1996 that are not listed on your criminal record, even if you were subsequently convicted as an adult. You must contact the court and police agency directly and request them to put those records aside.
Are you eligible to apply for a record suspension?

IMPORTANT!

❯ If you were convicted of simple possession of cannabis, please consult the Special Instructions found on the next page.

1. Check that you have completed all of your sentences, which includes:
   ❯ all fines, surcharges\(^1\), costs, restitution and compensation orders\(^2\);
   ❯ all sentences of imprisonment, conditional sentences, including parole and statutory release; and ❯ any probation order(s).

Important: Your weapons or driving prohibition order do not need to be expired before the waiting period begins.

2. Check that you have completed the appropriate waiting period by referring to the table below. In order to do so:
   ❯ identify when you have committed your first offence (not the date of sentencing); and ❯ identify if you were convicted of a summary or indictable conviction.

Tip: You may contact the court to obtain this information.

Important:
   ❯ If the court cannot confirm the method of trial, the longest waiting period will apply.
   ❯ The waiting period starts after you have completed all of your sentences.

\(^1\) Victim surcharges imposed under section 737 of the Criminal Code on or after October 24, 2013 and on or before December 13, 2018 will not be considered in determining eligibility for a record suspension.

\(^2\) If you were ordered to pay restitution to an individual or entity, courts may not be able to confirm payment (if this is the case, call the Parole Board of Canada at 1-800-874-2652).

\(^3\) As per section 752 of the Criminal Code.
Special instructions if you were convicted of simple possession of cannabis and other offences

IMPORTANT!

❯ If you were only convicted of simple possession of cannabis, please use the Cannabis Record Suspension Guide found at Canada.ca/record-suspensions.

❯ If you were convicted of simple possession of cannabis AND another offence(s), please use this guide and carefully read the following special instructions.

❯ A simple possession of cannabis conviction will not be included in your waiting period calculation and will not be considered by Board members in their assessment.

❯ You are eligible to apply even if you have not paid the fine or victim surcharge that was imposed for the simple possession of cannabis conviction only. Any unpaid fines will not be forgiven and provincial and federal governments may choose to enforce their payment later, even if you receive a record suspension.

❯ You must have completed all other parts of the sentence (i.e., imprisonment and probation, restitution and compensation orders) for both simple possession of cannabis and any other offences.

You must clearly demonstrate to the Parole Board of Canada that you were convicted of simple possession of cannabis by obtaining official documentation from the court that heard your case and/or the police service that has jurisdiction in the location where you were arrested.

It must be clear that any unpaid fine is for the simple possession of cannabis conviction only. If the fine or surcharge\(^1\) was imposed for multiple offences on the same day, it must be paid in full as a condition of eligibility and the applicable waiting period applies.

You must review the official documentation you have obtained carefully to determine if it clearly demonstrates that the substance was cannabis.

If you are unable to demonstrate to the Parole Board of Canada that the substance was cannabis, you must complete the entire sentence, including payment of fines and victim surcharges before applying. The conviction will also be included in your waiting period calculation.

Please note that you have to complete Step 1 to Step 9 of the Record Suspension Application Guide if you were convicted of simple possession of cannabis and any other offence.

\(^1\) Victim surcharges imposed under section 737 of the Criminal Code on or after October 24, 2013 and on or before December 13, 2018 will not be considered in determining eligibility for a record suspension.
Steps to apply for a record suspension

If you are eligible, have completed all of your sentences, and it is past the waiting period, you can now apply for a record suspension (see pages 1 and 2). Here are the steps to follow and the pages where you can find instructions on how to do each step:

Get your criminal record

Get your fingerprints taken. Visit an accredited fingerprinting company or a police service that can submit your fingerprints electronically.

Ask your local police service if they offer this service or visit www.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/en/where-do-get-a-criminal-record-check for more information.

Your electronic fingerprint submission must clearly state you are applying for a record suspension.

Wait to receive your criminal record (criminal convictions, conditional and absolute discharges) or a Certification of No Criminal Record from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Any documents provided by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police must be included with your application.

If you have convictions outside of Canada, you MUST also submit information to the Parole Board of Canada on these convictions, along with your criminal record.

When you receive your criminal record, check it to ensure all of your convictions are included. It is your responsibility to report all of your convictions to the Parole Board of Canada.

If ALL your convictions are included, go to Step 2 (next page).

If any of your conviction(s) is/are missing, see below.

If any of your convictions are missing from your criminal record, you must get a Proof of Conviction for each one. To get this, contact the court that heard your case and/or the police service that arrested you.

The Proof of Conviction must include:

- Date and court where you were sentenced;
- Offence that resulted in your conviction;
- Sentence you received; and
- Arresting police force.

If the court and/or police service do not have a record of your convictions, call the Parole Board of Canada’s toll-free info line: 1-800-874-2652.
Get your court information

→ You must get court information for each of your convictions. This MUST include proof and date of last payment for any fines, victim surcharges*, restitution, and compensation.

Answer questions 1 to 6 on the Court Information Form at the end of this guide.
Tip: Make copies of the form in case you need to provide the same information to another court.

Contact the court that heard your case
If you were sentenced in more than one court, you must ask each of them to complete the form. Give each court a copy of your criminal record and ask them to fill in the section For Court Use Only.

IMPORTANT!
Make sure each court:
› Fills in all of the For Court Use Only section of the form;
› Includes proof and date of last payment for any fines, victim surcharges*, restitution, and compensation;
› Includes the method of trial for each conviction (either summary, indictable or unknown);
› Includes all of your convictions from that court;
› Signs and dates the form; and
› Includes an official court seal or stamp on the form.
Tip: Ask for extra copies of all court documents. You may need them in the future. It will be easier to get copies now as they may not be available if your record suspension is ordered.

Check that the information on the Court Information Form is the same as your criminal record.
› If the information on the Court Information Form and criminal record do not match, or if the court has a record of conviction that is not on your criminal record, you must ask the court for a Proof of Conviction (consult Step 1).

* Victim surcharges imposed under section 737 of the Criminal Code on or after October 24, 2013 and on or before December 13, 2018 will not be considered in determining eligibility for a record suspension.
 If you were ordered to pay restitution to an individual or entity, courts may not be able to confirm payment (if this is the case, call the Parole Board of Canada at 1-800-874-2652).
IF YOU ARE NOT a current or past member of the Canadian Forces, go to Step 4 on the next page.

IF YOU ARE a current or past member of the Canadian Forces (Regular or Reserve), you must get a certified, signed and dated copy of your Military Conduct Sheet by contacting the appropriate organization below. If no conduct sheet exists, you must provide a letter from your Commanding Officer or the appropriate organization, which indicates that no information is available.

FOR CURRENT REGULAR OR RESERVE MEMBERS:
You must request a Military Conduct Sheet from your Commanding Officer.

FOR FORMER REGULAR MEMBERS:
- If you left on or after January 1, 1998, contact the Department of National Defence Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP) Section under the Privacy Act:

  Library and Archives Canada
  395 Wellington Street
  Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0N4
  www.bac-lac.gc.ca/eng/transparency/atippr/Pages/Online-requests-forms.aspx

IMPORTANT!
- Include all correspondence from your Commanding Officer, National Defence or Library and Archives Canada with your application.
- Make sure that your request for your Military Conduct Sheet includes the following information:
  ✓ Shows that the reason for the request is for a Record Suspension Application;
  ✓ Your first and last name (if it has since changed, it must state your name at the time);
  ✓ Your date of birth;
  ✓ Your Military Identification Number or Service Number;
  ✓ Your signature; and
  ✓ Enlistment and discharge dates.
STEP 4 Get your local police records check(s)

→ You must get a local police records check for:
  ▶ The city or town where you live now (your current address); AND
  ▶ Each city or town where you lived during the last 5 years (if you lived in that place for 3 months or more).

Important: Each local police records check is only valid for 12 months from the date it was issued.

How to get a local police records check

Fill in all questions on page 1 of the Local Police Records Check Form at the end of this guide.

Tip: Photocopy it for each local police service you contact.

Contact the local police service for the address where you live now. If you have lived in different places during the last 5 years, you must contact the police service for each place. If you are not sure who to contact, ask your local police service.

If you lived outside of Canada you still need to contact the local police service where you lived. If the police service outside Canada will not give you a local police records check, a signed letter from the police service stating that you have been law-abiding will be accepted. If it is in a foreign language, you must have it translated into English or French and submit both the original and the translated version with your application form.

Show your criminal record to each local police service and ask them to fill in the section on the Local Police Records Check Form called For Police Use Only (page 2).

You will need to show them a current photo ID and a second piece of ID.

Tip: Contact the local police service in advance to find out the types of ID they accept.

IMPORTANT!

The Parole Board of Canada will return your application if your Local Police Records Check Form does not include the following information:

▶ All information required in the For Police Use Only section on page 2;
▶ Signature and date stamp of the local police service; and ▶ Local police service official seal or stamp.
Get a copy of your document to support your identity

You need to provide a clear photocopy of a document which supports your identity with your application. This valid government issued (Federal, Provincial or Municipal) document must include your name, date of birth and signature.

Complete the Schedule 1 Exception Form

➔ Please note that this step is only required if:

› You have a conviction for a Schedule 1 offence and your first offence was committed on or after March 13, 2012 (see page 1); or
› Your Schedule 1 offence was committed on or after March 13, 2012.

Under Section 4(2) of the Criminal Records Act, a person is ineligible to apply for a record suspension if he or she has been convicted of an offence referred to in Schedule 1 (sexual offence involving a child) of the Act with certain exceptions. For more information, refer to www.laws-lois.justice.gc.ca.

➔ If you have NOT been convicted of a Schedule 1 offence under the Criminal Records Act, skip to Step 7.

➔ If you HAVE been convicted of a Schedule 1 offence, you MUST complete the Exception Form. Under Section 4(3) of the Criminal Records Act, a person who has been convicted of an offence referred to in Schedule 1 may apply for a record suspension IF the Parole Board of Canada is satisfied that the convicted person:

› was not in a position of trust or authority towards the victim of the offence and the victim was not in a relationship of dependency with him or her;
› did not use, threaten to use or attempt to use violence, intimidation or coercion in relation to the victim; and
› was less than five years older than the victim.

IMPORTANT!

Fill in ALL sections of the Exception Form. If the form is incomplete, the Parole Board of Canada will return your application to you. If you do not have enough room to include all the requested information, attach additional pages to the form.
Fill in the Record Suspension Application Form

Answer all the questions in the Record Suspension Application Form found at the end of this guide.

Print in BLOCK letters using black and blue ink only.

Tip: If you need more space to include all the information, attach additional pages to your application.

Important: The form is only valid for 12 months from the date you sign it.

Make sure that you have:

➢ Answered all questions on both sides of the form;
➢ Answered all questions truthfully and completely; and
➢ Signed and dated the form within the last year. As the applicant, you must sign the form.

Important: If you do not answer all the questions on both sides of the form or do not sign the form, the Parole Board of Canada will return your application and documents.

IMPORTANT!

The Parole Board of Canada must be able to contact you now and in the future. If we cannot contact you or verify your information, your application may not be processed. If your mailing address changes, you must send the Parole Board of Canada a letter with your new mailing address. This letter must include:

➢ Your name;
➢ Your Record Suspension Application Personal Reference Number;
➢ Your new mailing address;
➢ Your signature. As the applicant, you must sign the letter.

Send the letter to the address found on page 12.

Important: Even after you receive a record suspension, you must continue to advise the Parole Board of Canada of any changes in your address.
STEP 8

Complete the Measurable Benefit/Sustained Rehabilitation Form

→ Please note that this Step is only required if your first offence was committed on or after June 29, 2010. You may wish to include information on the circumstances of your offence(s) to help with the processing of your application.

As per section 4.1 of the Criminal Records Act, you must clearly describe how receiving a record suspension would provide you with a measurable benefit AND sustain your rehabilitation into society as a law-abiding citizen. Fill in all sections of the Measurable Benefit/Sustained Rehabilitation Form. If you do not fill in all sections, the Parole Board of Canada will return your application to you. If you do not have enough room to include all the requested information, attach additional pages to the form.

STEP 9

Provide the payment of the Application Processing Fee

Please include the Record Suspension Application Processing Fee with your application.

Important: If the fee is missing, incomplete or inaccurate, your application may not be processed and may be returned to you.

The current Record Suspension Application Processing Fee is:

$50.00 (CDN [Canadian dollars])

Important: In order to include the current fee, consult the updated Record Suspension Application Guide at Canada.ca/record-suspensions or contact the Parole Board of Canada at 1-800-874-2652 or suspension@pbc-clcc.gc.ca.

The following payment types are accepted:

› Credit card (use the Record Suspension Application Processing Fee Credit Card Payment Form found at end of this guide);
› Certified cheque;
› Money order; and
› Bank draft payable to the Receiver General for Canada.

The Parole Board of Canada will not accept a personal cheque or cash.
Before you submit your application

IMPORTANT!

➢ You must provide the original documents with the original signature and official seal and/or stamp from the courts and the police. Failure to do so, will result in your application being returned to you. Forms that have been tampered with will also be returned.

➢ Before you mail your application, make sure to keep a photocopy of your documents, including the forms to keep for future reference.
