

Entering Canada by pleasure craft (recreational boat) during COVID-19

Travellers entering Canada must follow the rules set out by the Emergency Orders under the Quarantine Act to help reduce the spread of COVID-19 and its variants.

Before you travel

All travellers:

- Enter your information in ArriveCAN before or upon entry to Canada.
- Visit the Canada Border Services Agency website to learn about the reporting requirements for private boaters.

Unvaccinated travellers:

- Find out if you can enter Canada. If you are eligible, plan your quarantine.
- Take a COVID-19 test before arriving to Canada.

At the border

All travellers:

- Report to the CBSA Telephone Reporting Centre (1-888-226-7277) or an open marine reporting site location.
- Answer all eligibility and health screening questions.

Fully vaccinated travellers:

- Have your identification, ArriveCAN receipt and proof of vaccination ready.

Unvaccinated travellers:

- Have your identification, ArriveCAN receipt, and pre-entry test results ready.
- Proceed directly to your place of quarantine.

Once in Canada

All travellers:

- You may be contacted and/or visited by Government of Canada and/or provincial and territorial officials.
- In addition to federal guidance, follow all provincial/territorial and local public health guidance.
