SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION REPORT: 2019-20 BUDGET IMPLEMENTATION VOTES

I have the honour to submit a report with supplementary information related to the 2019 Budget Implementation votes on behalf of the responsible Ministers.

On April 11, 2019, the 2019-20 Departmental Plans were tabled in the House of Commons and considered referred to committees. In order to support those discussions, the present report offers additional information.

The 2019-20 Departmental Plans, while presenting individual expenditure plans for each department and agency (excluding Crown corporations), do not address the new budget measures, given the timing of the tabling.

This supplementary report tabled today, and deemed referred to appropriate standing committees, includes the 2019 Budget Implementation vote details related to new spending measures by organization. In the spirit of transparency and completeness, supplementary information is also provided for a number of organizations that are not required to table departmental plans, but have budget measures.

The report presents a description of budget measures by organization with the associated funding for 2019-20.

Yours sincerely,

Original signed by

The Honourable Joyce Murray, P.C., M.P.
President of the Treasury Board and Minister of Digital Government

Supporting the Delivery of Justice through the Courts Administration Service

Description:

Supporting the Delivery of Justice through the Courts Administration Service (CAS) includes funding for two separate items: Montreal Office relocation and Translation of court decisions

Montreal is the federal Courts' third-largest location. The federal Courts and CAS currently occupy a leased building. Public Services and Procurement Canada (PSPC) has determined that it would be more economical over the long-term to purchase land and construct a new Crown-owned building for the Courts and CAS. Relocation is planned for January 2023. Funding in this Budget measure is to cover CAS's portion of the project, including the additional costs for fit-up of special purpose judicial space.

This Budget measure also includes $1.7M in funding to support the translation of more court decisions within a reasonable timeframe. This measure essentially renews and augments previous funding of $1M per year that sunset at the end of 2018-19.

Inclusion of Canadians with Visual Impairments and Other Print Disabilities

Description:

Budget 2019 provided $23 million for inclusion of Canadians with visual impairments and other print disabilities. There is a market failure in Canada in the production and distribution of accessible books. High production costs and limited sales have prevented Canadian publishers from investing in the production of accessible books. Only 10% of published books in Canada are available in formats fully accessible to people with print disabilities. The initiative will increase the availability of accessible Canadian-authored digital books. The Canada Book Fund (CBF), which supports production of Canadian-authored books, will be the main vehicle for the delivery of the initiative. With increased support from the CBF from 2019-20 to 2023-24, Canadian-owned publishers, with assistance from book industry organizations, will increase their production of accessible Canadian-authored digital books and make them available through commercial sales channels and public libraries across the country.

Implementing a Federal Carbon Offset System

As part of the Pan-Canadian Framework on Clean Growth and Climate Change, the Government of Canada committed to developing and implementing a federal carbon pollution pricing "backstop" system to apply in jurisdictions that request it or that do not put a system in place aligned with the Pan-Canadian Benchmark. A federal offset system will help ensure there are carbon offsets credits for regulated industries under the OBPS, and will create incentives to reduce greenhouse gas emissions in sectors not subject to carbon pollution pricing. Upkeep of the OBPS on-line registration module, as well as the development, implementation and administration of an on-line reporting module and compliance unit tracking system is required to enable emissions trading, reporting and compliance under the federal OBPS.

Improving Canadian Energy Information

Description:

Accurate and reliable information is important to inform Canada's energy future.

Budget 2019 proposes to invest $15 million over five years, starting with $2 million in 2019-20, and $3.4 million ongoing, to establish the Canadian Centre of Energy Information, which will be delivered by Statistics Canada.

This Centre will compile energy data from several sources into a single easy-to-use website. It will also support ongoing research by Statistics Canada to identify data gaps that would improve the overall quality of energy information available to Canadians.

Improved energy information will allow Canadians to benefit from comparable and consolidated energy data as it contributes towards better decision-making by governments and industry, and supports higher quality research.

Protecting Children from Sexual Exploitation Online

Description:

Budget 2019 proposes to invest $22.24 million over three years, starting 2019–20, to enhance Public Safety Canada’s efforts to combat child sexual exploitation online. This funding will support efforts to raise awareness of this serious issue, reduce the stigma associated with reporting, increase Canada’s ability to pursue and prosecute offenders, and work together with industry to find new ways to combat the sexual exploitation of children online. Of this amount, $4.44 million will be invested in 2019-20 and will be used to develop the following initiatives: launching a Public Opinion Research to gauge the public’s perception and awareness of online child sexual exploitation; developing national and targeted awareness and education campaigns; signing contribution agreements with provinces to build provincial and municipal law enforcement capacity to investigate cases of online child sexual exploitation; and developing a comprehensive plan to engage stakeholders, in particular, the criminal justice system and digital industry. Specifically, these initiatives will contribute to protecting children from sexual exploitation online by increasing the public’s awareness of signs of online child sexual exploitation and reducing the stigma associated with reporting, leading to an increase in reporting and greater protection of victims. These investments will also help build the capacity of local law enforcement and the judicial system, leading to more investigations and prosecutions. Finally, increased engagement with digital industry will help prevent the uploading and increase the rate of removal of illicit content online.

Support for Access to Information

Description:

The Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC) investigates all access to information complaints about federal institutions. As of March 31, 2019, with the increasing number of access requests across government and the resulting increase in the volume of complaints, the OIC's Inventory stood at nearly 3,400 complaints. The timely resolution of these complaints is not achievable with the OIC's current funding levels. Over the past three years, with the temporary funding received, the OIC has exceeded the expected results for its complaints inventory reduction strategy. To maintain the momentum of the strategy, the OIC requires $3.0 M for 2019-20. This temporary funding would also enable the OIC to further reduce the number of complaints pending the passage of Bill C-58 and the accompanying increase in the OIC's permanent funding of $1.7 M on an ongoing basis. It will put the OIC in a better position to make the transition to any new business model legislative amendments might require.
