Index

All bases and stations are indexed under the heading 'air bases and stations.' Operations with codenames are indexed under the headings 'operations, Allied,' and 'operations, German.' Army and naval units and formations are indexed under national service headings – British Army, German Army. National air forces are indexed under their name – Royal Canadian Air Force, Luftwaffe. Allied air force units, formations, and commands are indexed under such designations as commands, wings, groups, squadrons, and schools. Civilian casualties are indexed under the heading 'casualties'; military casualties are indexed under the command, formation, or unit involved. Operational entries are indexed by the main functional types: for example, fighter operations, bomber operations, anti-shipping operations, and anti-submarine operations.
